

DISHASED-1596. HOUSE FOR THE

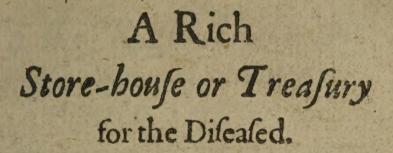

6193 B

ST C 73606

JAJ.P. EDMOND& SPARK, ABERDEEN

30214 35. 包 18

Aspen Chulot topals

Wherein, are many approued
Medicines for divers and fundry Diseases, which have been long hidden, and not come to light before this time.

Now set foorth for the great benefit and comfort of the poorer sort of people that are not of abillitie to go to the Physitions.

By A. T.

Rebus aduersis constans.

AT LONDON, Printed for Thomas Purfoot, and Raph Blower, Ann. 1596,

Rich Rich West South or Transfer . . . being in it sold for Whereit, are many appear Madicines for differential designation Standay, which have been loved with the controlled and control of the best of A Paris in a receipt for the constant being for the constant of the constant o en de la Constantina del constantina de la constantina de la constantina del constantina de la constan The state of the s The state of the s reduction the transfer and the state of Ager and Lawer Blower, Traction 1556

To the Right Hanorable Thomas Skinner, Lord Mayor of the City of London.

Thath been, and is (right Honorable) a lawdable custome in this Citie, that at the entring of any Lord Major into his Office, not onely his familiar friends and acquaintance, but also of every fraternitie, some selected men should present his Lordship with one gift or other: Whereby they do not only congratulate with him his late increase of honor; but also those presents are as tokens, or earnest pence of their yeelding dutie and obedience vnto his Lordship, during his office. In like sort, I my selfe (though one of the poorest, yet a Citizen, and none of the least, in humble obedience, and dutifull good meaning towardes your honor, am imboldened to present your Lordship.

The Epistle Dedicatory.

ship with this Booke, intituled, 3 tich Store: house or Treasury for the Diseased, A Booke (Right Honorable) very necessary, and conuenient to bee vsed of the poorer sorte of people (for the preservation of their health) that are not of abilitie to go to the Philitions, and I assuring my selfe, that your Lordship will vouchsafe to be a protector of the poore peoples profit and good, both in health and wealth, (the same comming by chaunce into my hands) have thought it good to publish it vnder your honorable name, whose Authority may best countenance the same, and whose curteous admittance shall be a sufficient guerdon of my dutifull good meaning heerein. If my worth were greater, my dutie would shew greater: in the meane time, as it is, it is bound to your Lordship, To whome I wish long life, Rill-lengthened with all happinesse.

Your Lordships in all duty

DIVERS & SVNDRYE GOOD

Instructions & Rules for all such as are the true Practisers of Phisick and Chirurgerie, which are very meete and convenient to be observed and knowne vnto them, And also concerning Bloud-letting, Purging, and of the vse and commoditie that often times commeth thereof,

OR AS MVCH as Health is profitable and pleasant to all men, since that all men do continually with, and pray cyther for the restitution or cotinuance of the same, and how that it is the propertie of nature, onely to lighte and strive against diseases, and also that the Phistician is but the minister and servent of nature, either to apply such thinges to her, as may be view to difference withall, or els by taking away the greatest parte of the same matter which causeth and maintenant the sickenes, and therefore it is very meete a necessarie for every Phistion, before such time as he doe minister any thinge at all to the sick person, diligentlie to learne, and to search out perfectly the principal cause of the disease, in the which if he be ignorant, it is more by good fortune, then by any cunning or skill, that he doe ever cure any disease at all. For how is it possible to helpe nature, with that which she hath neede of a except it be first knowne, what she needeth, which none can knowe, except the cause of the disease he first manifestly knowne unto him, soe y he may minister thinges directly, contrary to the cause of the same viscase. And therefore I doe most greately e samente

Rules and Instructions to be observed

the ignorance of the common fact of People, who for the most e parte are perswaped, that one medicine is sufficient foz one viseale, anot regarding that one viseale may come of sundaye causes, and therefore it both necessarilie require diners medicines, as toz example, weaknes of the fomacke (that it can: not significall, or that it bath no good Appetite) is one difeafe, which neverthelesse may come a dozen sundzie waies at the leaft. Therefore the cure of it cannot be alwaies with one me= vicine, Asif weakenes of the Comacke, poe come of a weake distempure of it selfe onely, then it must of necessitie be made hotte by some meanes, but if heate be the cause of weakenes, then it must needes be cooled, Likewise pou must moissen depnes, and dye modure, But if the weakenes doe come of some superfluous humour that both abound, which hath flowed into the stomacke, or hath been there ingendred, then must that ill humour, of necessitie be purged out, evther by a vomite, or els a purgation with a myske medicine for it, And if it be fleame, then with a medicine that expelleth fleame, But if choller be abounding three: then mult it be such a medicine as both purc choller, And likewise for melancholy, a meete Purgation must be vier to expell the humanr, But if the imbeculitie of the Comacke, be caused by a distillation and Rewme, that falleth out of the head into it, then is the cure to be remedied in p head, and not in the Armacke, Likewise if vistempure of the liner or spleene, voe weaken the Komacke, then the cure considerth in the healing of those members, and not in ministring of any thinge for the Romacke.

Therefore let no man thinke it sufficient for the Philition, if he knowe that a man bath such a viscale, as the Ague, the Collick, the Flix, or such other like ac, that then hee maye straighteway (if he be skillfull) minister a medicine meet for it: Mos not soe, but he must first search by all meanes possible, the very cause it selfe of y viscale, which many ignorant People voe persuade themselves, that a skillfull Philition may voe

in Phisicke and Chirurgerie.

in all diseases, by the onely sight a inspection of the Vrine, But alas they are altogether decessed, and so, to come to y knoweledge of the tause of some inward disease, the Vrine prosteth nothing at all, so, in most inwards diseases of the bodye, there bught as greate a regard to be had and taken to the Pulses, and to the dispositions a state of the Braine, of him that is sick, as there should be had of the Vrine. Also the Egestions, Sweat, Spettle, and other Excrements, are not to be neglegited, in soemuch, that at some time they do declare y cause of the disease, and the state thereof, when the Vrine doeth not show any thinge at all.

Likewise for example, in a Plurisie, or an instantation of the Lunges, or in a Squinancie, or such like, there is more to be knowne by Spettle, then there is by Vrine.

Also in a Laske, or a bloudye Flixe, or in a Collicke, or Iliake, there is more certaintie of Judgment, to be genen by Egestion or Ordure, then there is by Vrine: Athich thinges, those that are not altogether addicted to their owne fantalies, may easely by good reason, be persuaded to credite, for Vrine is nothing else, but the matrie and washie parte of the bloude, so, it is seperated from bloud in the Liner, and sucked from thence into the Raines, from whence is distilled downe into p Bladder, and soc passeth foorth. Seeing therefore that Vrine is the excrement that is seperated from p bloud: there is good cause why it would show the state of the Liner, softhe Bloud, in all partes of the body, and it can also declare the state of all such members as it passeth by, as of the Raines, the Bladder, and such like.

But certainely inother diseases that beaut of the Vaines, & be distant from the places, by which the Vrine passeth, there is no certains indement to be genen by the Vrine, unless the be-bemencie of the disease hath insected the bloud of the Liner aster some sort, Adenertheles such is y ignorate of many people, that they thinks him woothye of noe estimation in Philicke,

B 2

which

Rules and Instructions to be observed which cannot at the first lighte of the Vrine (although it hath been carried pr. Hiles) tel whether it be the water of a man of a woman, and how the disease greeneth the patient better then himselfe, Talso whether he shall line of dye, what disease some it be, which thinges undoubtedly in diners diseases are impossible to be knowne by the onely sight and inspection of the Vrine.

Therefore it is very necessarie for him that will minister Phisicke, duly and rightfully to observe these 4, rules follow= ing (That is to say) first to see the sick Person, & to conferre with him or her, which soener it be, for there is none that can soe well veclare any griefe (what soeuer it be) as he can that is troubled therewith. Secondly to view and feele the Pulses, and to observe well the state of them. Thirdlye to view very diligently all the excrements, not onely the brine, but also the Spettle, Sweat and Ordure. Fourethlief and last of all, to have a respect to the place where the griefe is, and to consider well the accidents that doe arise thereof, not omitting to know the former diet and trade of life, which the ficke person hath vsed, Thefethinges then being viligenclie & senerally marked, the Philition may more certainly learne the chiefest cause of the disease, the Grength thereof, and to what ende it will come buto, then by seeing the Vrine onely, and also by what meanes he may minister a meete medicine for it, whereby the sick per= son may soone finde ease, and purchase unto himselse exceading greate fame.

Thus have I partely veclored, what thinges oughte to be knowne of every Philition, that thereby he might withdraw, take awaye the fonde and foolish opinion, that a greate number of people do deeme to be true, that is, that the light of the Vrineis sufficient ynough, for a cunning Philitid, perfectlie to know the disease of the sicke, and the true cause thereof, to minister apt medicines for it. And now I cease to speake any more hereof, but I will as briefly as I may entreate som what of the vie and benefit that both arise & come of Purging,

and

in Phisicke and Chirurgerie.

and Bloud-letting, & I would with all those that do practise the fame, to be carefull thereof.

Note also that if the bodye of a manne, doe abound with humours, which are ready to oppresse nature, then whether there be any sickness in the body present, by meanes of them, or if there be but damnger of sickness, those humours must be enacuation out of the bodie, eyther by Bloud-letting, Purging, vomit, Sweating Bathes, or else by some other kind of enacuation. But I will speake here onely of enacuation by Bloud-letting and Purging, and street all of Bloudletting.

There be divers thinges to be considered of, before Bloudletting, as the age of the patient, the complexion, the time of the years, the region, the custome, the strength, and the behemencie of the difeafe.

The age must be considered, because Children buder 14. yeares of age, and old solke may not be let bloud, unlesse great necessitie require it.

The complexion is to be noted, because a hote complexion hath large vaines, and aboundeth with much bloud, and they may therefore sorbeare a good quantitie of bloud; But colde complexions have narrow vaines and little bloud, and therefore theire enacuation must be small.

The time of the years must be very well marked, that the weather be not too hote not too colde, and therefore the spring time is the most aptest time for bloud-letting, because that then it is temperate.

The Region and Cuntrey, is to bespoken of, because it is to be noted, that if the Region be very hote, or else very colde, it is not good to let bloud, but a temperate Region is most meetest of all fozic.

Custome is not to be neglected, for thereby we may knowe that they that have bene accustomed to bleede, may better suffer bloud-letting, then those that were never letten bloud at any time before.

The Arength of the Person must be regarded, so is there be

B 3

areat

Rules and Instructions to be observed greate weakenes, then is it very daungerouse to let bloude at all, except great necessitie compelleth.

Also the vehemencie of the disease is worthie to be marked: for if it be a vehemence disease, then you must let bloud foorthwith, if the former circumstances will permit it.

These thinges being considered, if they will permit bloudletting, and if it be in a necdefull cause, then it shalve very necessarie to knowe in what signe the Poone is in, so, you must take heed that she be not in the signe that governeth that member, wherein you intend to open the vaine, & also to so, see that shee be in such a signe, as is good to let bloude in.

The vies and commodities of bloud-letting, are thefe that are here expressed.

First, This is a generall rule, that bloud-letting is a very good remedie for all diseases that we engended of aboundance stowing or exuption of bloud, as we chiestie the Feuers called Sinochy.

Also the Phrenesie, Squinancie, Plurisie, Peripnewmony, Opthalmie, and against all instantations, and inspection action engended of bloude in the Lyner, the Spleene, the Raines, the Wombe, the Share, the Arme-holes, the Armes, the Legges: and to conclude, in all inwards of outwards partes, wherefor ner the instantation bee: bloud-letting is good for it, whether it is now present; of that there is any danger, that it will shortely engender.

Also Bloud-letting is good in Feuers, whether they be continuall of incermittent, insomuch that the obstructions & Coppinges of the Vaines, be caused of immoderate repletion of the humoures.

Note also that Bloud-letting both emptie and cuacuat from the bodie, all humours alike, as well the good as the bad.

And therefore it is chieffie to be vied, when there is to great an aboundance of bloude in the bodie & other humours, which one strains the vaines, and that there is greate daunger & ieopardie in breaking of some vaines, or the brusing out of some flure

in Phisicke and Chirurgerie.

flure of bloude, or of choking, and to extinguish naturall heate. And therefore in such cases, you must let bloud with all spead, although the licknes be not already present.

nes of the vaines, is brought into a meane state againe, and the pames that came of the fulnes and Arteries, be eased: And the heavines that was felte in the bodie, is cleane taken away, and the bodie is tightened, and made more quick and nimble, to doe all such actions as nature hath orderned it to doe. Also it causeth nature, to have a larger scope, or a free passage by opening a emptying of the straight waies a passage, of the vaines and Arteries.

Last of all, if it be vone in time, it prenenteth diners and sundrie diseases, into which the vodic was both apt and readie to have failen into.

Many more commodities might here be rehearled as conscerning bloud-letting, which is done when necessitie requireth, and as it ought to be done, but to conclude (omitting all other) Mote this is a general rule, that bloud-letting is bery good against all kinds of diseases, which be caused and engended of bloude, and not onely when the diseases are present, but also it is good letting of bloude, to prevent any such diseases, if they be softene or scared, alwaics regarding that there be none of these imperiments asortiaid, which doe prohibite & softing bloud-letting, except it be in great necessitie and extremitie, for then as the common proverbe is, Necessias non habet legem, that is: Pecessitie hath noe lawe.

Heere would A leave of to speake of bloud-letting, but that there commeth into my minde, the common opinion of the igenorant people, which voe certeinly believe, that if any person be let Bloudone years, y he must likewise be let bloude every years, or els he is in (Acannot tell) how great danger, which sond opinion of theires (whence soever it sprong at the first) is not more like to be true, then A shoulde say, when a man hath agreate wounde by chaunce, in any part of his body, whereby

B 4

tre

Rules and Instructions to be obserued

he loseth much bloud, and that after it is healed, he must of necessitie have the like wounde againe the next yeare, to amoide as much bloud, or els he is in daunger of greate ucknes or of veath, Which opinion, is I my selfe via affirme it to be true (although it be most false) yet I might vie the like reaso and aucthoritie to desende it, that the common people doe vie for theires: for they can say nothing if they be as ked why they thinke soe, but that they have heard many say soe. Therefore I would wish that noe man should credite any longer this sond and foolish opinion, being most false, unless he can sheme good reason for it, which I ame very well assued of, noe man can doe. Wary this I thinke, that like as bloud-letting is not good against all diseases, soe also it is not good in all persons, but onely in those that will be content to vse afterward a moderate and convenient viet.

Those therefore that doe abound with bloud, and will be let bloud to preserve themselves, from the daunger of any disease, which is like sportely to ensue and molest them. They must for a long time after, be content to be a moderat and congenient diet. For those that be untemperat & gluttonous in meates, or are great drinkers, wine-bibbers, they doe not onely receive no commoditie at all by bloud-letting; but also often times, they eatth more hurt by it, then they should have had without it, sor in 3.014. Daies space after, they still & stuffe themselves with more raw suices and humours (by meanes of bumeasus surable diet) then they had before, and often times they do dye

And therefore note that there is such force and vertue in a moderate diet, to eschue and decline diseases, that without the due observation of it, bloud-letting is to noe purpose at all. And therefore if the common saying of the people be true in a ny body, that they must of necessitie be let bloud often, it is be rie true, but it is in such as keepe an immoderat diet, present ly after Bloud-letting, and therefore I do advertise all men, to be ware of excess in eating & drinking after bloud-letting.

Note:

in Phisicke and Chirurgerie.

Note also y after bloud-letting, none sught to walke very fail, of to runne, of to vie any vehement exercise, but let him be quiet and rechimselse, untill such time as his spirites wall be wel refresh v and quieted againe.

Note also, that no person being let blood, ought to sleepe immediatly after bloud-letting, but let him keepe himselse both quiet and wakings, and avoiding all contention and exercise of body and minds, and about two hourses after lettings of bloud, there may a little soods be taken, but let it be such as will make good inice and nourish apace, and within 4. of 5. hourses after bloud-letting of somewhat asoff, the patient may be permitted to sleepe, soe that it be provided for, I taken here of, that he doe not turns himselse by on that Arms, where the vains was opened, and let him also take good heede that he do not loosen the band, and soe let the bloud flowe out agains, and let him afterwards use a sparing diet, dayly increasing it by little and litle, untill such tune as he be come to his accustomed or ordinarie diet agains.

And note that the morning is the most meetest time of all for bloud letting, when every digestion is perfectly sinished, the superfluities and excraments of ech of them fully avoided out, which thinges of accessitie must be foreseene, that they bee so, Dratthe least in a time of great extremitie, the next apt time to let blood in, is when the stomacke is somewhat emptie, and that is about sixe or eight hours after meate. Thus much I have entreated of as concerning blood-letting, and now I am purpossie minded to speake somewhat of the vie and com-inodities that come of Purging.

First it is to be understood, that every kinde of Purgation, hath that secret vertue and propertie in it selfe, that when it is received into a mans body, and provoked to exercise the vertue that it hath by naturals heate labouring to digest it, then doth it draw unto it all such humours, as it hath vertue and power to Purge.

And therefore a Purgation is an enacuation of vicious and corrupt

Rules and Instructions to be observed

togrupt humours, which one often times trouble and molest y hady, but not of all corrupt and bad humours alike.

For every Purging medicine, both drawe buto it selfe, one peculier and proper humour (that is) either Flegme or chol-ler, or else metancholie or matery humours.

And therefore those persons that be persectlie in health, ought not to take a Purgation, since they one not abound with corrupt humanes, wherefore in those, when the medicine since then such supersitious humanes as it hath vertue to drawe, it consumeth and wasteth the blond and the siesh. And sor that cause, whole solkes are not purged by purgations, but rather consumed and wasted, sor it is manyfest hereby, that Purgatios be very daungerous to them that are in persect health, which things is ressisted also of Hippocrates in the 37. Aphorisme, of his second booke, where he saieth after this sort, Qui corpore bene se habent hos purgare periculoss est, (that is) it is dans gerous purging of those that be in perfect health.

Also because every purging medicine hath vertue to drawe one peculier homour, there is good heide and care to be taken, that such a medicine be ministred as hath vertue to drawe out the humour abounding, and none other, or elfe in fead of much good, that of it lelfe it would doe, if it were conveniently meni-Ared: it may concraryewife doe exceading great hurte, and woozke many inconveniences to the body. And accordinge to to the faying of Hipocrates in the last Aphonisme of his firste booke, in this maner. Si qualia oportet purgari purgentur, cofert, et facile ferunt, si contra, difficulter, that is, yt such things be purged as ought to be, it profiteth, and may easily be suffered, but if it be contrary wife, it hurterh and may scarcely bee borne. Therefore there ought diligent care and heed to be taken in the receiving of a purgation, that it be ministred by a fkilfull Philition, that hath certainly found out what humour it is that aboundeth. But alas the greatest number of the comon fort of people, do, hould an opinion that if they may have a medicine for a little money, which will porughe them often in Philicke and Chirurgerie.

to the stocke, what humour soever it be, and purgeth out, they are safe ynough: howe be it, I would wish them hereafter alwaies to have in minde this saying of the most excellent Phissition Hipocrates in the rrii. Aphorisme of the first booke, Deiectiones non multitudine sunt estimands, sed si calia deijciantur, quaha conveniunt, that is: Egestions are not to bee esteamed soy their great quantitie, but it such bad humours be purged out as they ought to be (that is) such vicious & corrupt humours as doe abound and bee supersuous in mans bodye, then is the bodie quieted soy a long time after, if it be dieted as asozesaid.

There be divers thinges chiefly to be considered of by euerye Philition before such time as he doe minister any Purgation to the sicke person: as the qualitie and quantitie of the humour, the strength of him or her that is sicke, the age, that ime of the yeare, and lastly the disease.

The qualitie of the homour is greatly to be considered, that thereby he may perfectly knowe what kinde of humour is to be enacuate, a purged out, for it must be onely that which troubleth the bodie, with superfluous aboundance thereof.

As if great aboundance of As ame doe molest and crouble the bodie, then hee must of necessicie minister a medicine whiche purgeth seame, and so likewise for all other humours what soener abounding in any part of the bodie.

Also be that doth undertake the ministring of any medicine, ought to have great respect to the strength of the sicke of discaled person: for if he be very weake and feeble, there ought no purgation at all to be ministred unto him, because all maner of purgations doe both weaken nature a diminish strength, and the stronger the sicke person is, the more he is weakened thereby. Let all men therefore beware of behement a strong purgations, least they put their sines in hazard a danger. By the age of the Patient, the Phistion is put in Rinde that this oren and old men ought not to receive any Purgations, except maruallous great necessive doe require it. The time of the Rules & Instructions to be observed wherein Purgations ought not to be ministered, as in Sommer, and especially during the time of the Dogge daies, as they are most commonly called, and also during all the time, that the Summe is in Leo, for then is nature burnt by and made soe weake withall, that she is not able to suffer the force and viotence of a Purgation, but the Spring time is the most mercest and principalest time in all the yeare, for the taking of Purgations, because it is then temperate.

Last of all, the Phisition ought viligently, to behould a contemplate the viscale, that he knowing certainly what kind of viscale it is, may the moze better finds out of what humour, it is caused, As sor example.

Yf the Philition do perceive y disease to be a tertian Fever, traightwap he knoweth that it is caused of great aboundance of choller, and therefore he must of necessitie minister a meete medicine to purge choller, withall, and so likewise in all other diseases.

Note likewise, that if there be none of the improiments as bone named, a Purgation is good to be ministred to all such as have aboundance of cuill inice or corrupt humours in the body, for it draweth out all the had humours that doe molest y body, and thereby doth restore it to his owne state againe.

But if a Purgació be rashly ministred eyther to one that need octh st not, or at an inconvenient time, or that it be such a medicine, as draweth not out the humour which then abounded, or if the medicine be vehement and very serong, it will surely put the Patient in great daunger of his life.

These thinges therefore ought to be well taken heede of by all menne, lest they eatth great hurt when they hope sor some great profite.

But if a Purgation be discreetly ministred to him that hath need of it in due time, and by an apt and meet medicine, which is of that sorce and abillitie, to drawe out the abounding humanus in sufficient quantitie, then both the medicine purchase

in Phisicke and Chirurgerie.

most singuler great commodies to the body, foz it enacuateth and emptieth out all the chiefeit canses of the diseases and sicknelles, eyther present or els to come, being ingendreves any superfluous of corrupt humour, as are most commonly Feuers, tercians, quartaines, quotidians, or Fluxes, and are caused of rawe humours of sharpe choller, Dropsies, Goutes, Palsies, Litargies, and diners other &c.

Note also that before a Purgation be ministred, there ought a medicine to be taken, which should prepare the body, & make it apt to purge, and therefore it is called a preparative, it is genen for two causes, eyther to denide, extenuat, & make them groffe and clammy humours, that they may be ready to flowe out, when the medicine draweth them, or else it is geuen to open and unitoppe the conduits & vessels of the body, by which the Purgation must drawe the superfluous humour to it.

And this is that which Hipocrates both counsaile in the first Aphorisme of his second booke, where he saith, Corpora cum quisq; purgare voluerit, opportet fluuia facere, that is, when any man will purge the body, he must make it flowing, by opening and propering of the vessels.

The most meetest time of al torcceine a Purgation is in the mozning, for then are all the digestions perfectly finished, and the Comackeis without meate, There is also great heede to be taken in what signe the moone is in, befoze such time as any Purgation be ministred, for some signes are very good for it, & other some are cuill, Therefore I would with all such as ove take bpon them the ministring of and Purgation, to have great regard before they do minister it, of the sicke perion, the time, and the place greened, and also to marke wel all such thinges as are before reliearled, least that they doe more hurt thereby in one day to p licke person, then they are able to doe him good in a whole yeare, and yet they may doe it of meere simplicite, not knowing themselves what they have done, neyther are they able to cure the same wound which they themselves have

A Purga-

Rules and Instructions to be observed

A Purgation must be taken hote, for soe it offendeth the formacke least, and it will worke the sooner.

Also those that are apt to vonite, and are not able to endure the smell of the Purgation, let them Aoppe their nosethrills, or else let them smell to some odorifferous thinge, when they are about to take it, and assoone as it is taken, it is good for the Patient, to smell to a toste of browne bread dipped in vineger, and to applie warme clothes to the stomecke, and to wash the mouch presently after that it is taken, with some odoriferous wine, oz els to thew some sweete and pleasant thing to take a= way the bitter take of smell of the medicine, Thy this meanes vomitim hal be eschewed.

Likewise for the space of one houre after that the Purgation is taken, let the Patient lit Will and keepe himselfe quiet, and without any sleepe at all, that the Arength of the medicine may passe into all partes of his body, but if the Purgation do worke Nowly, let him walke up and bowne for a good space after, if he can, and when it worketh, in any case there must be great care taken, that the Patient do not Neepe, for soe the operation of p medicine would be stopped.

Also in the time of Purging immoderate heate and cold are to be eschewed, and therefore a very great ver, and the cold a open agre are both hurtefull, for the body must be kept in a teperate heate.

After that the Purgation hath done workinge, the Patient must be nourished with a meane quantitie of some broth, that will breede good inice, and be easelie digested, and afterwards by little & litle, returne to his accustomed diet againe.

Thus have I as brieflye as I could, declared the commodities which dee come of bloud-letting and Purging, being wel and duely ministred and vsed, and also of the discommodities that will ensue both of bloud-letting and Purging if they be at any sime miluled, withinge all men as they doe tender theire health and lives, to beware of those ignozant persons, who doe most commonly vse coopen but one kinde of vaine, for all main Phisicke and Chirurgerie.

ner of vileales, and doe occupie but one kinde of Purgation against all humans, not considering at all, the strength and the age of the Patient, neyther the time, not the chiefe cause of the comminge of the vilease whatsoener it bee, not of any other of the circumstances afore named, but let them almaics seeke for the countaile and aide of one that is knowne to be skilfull in Phiscke and Chirure gerie, and is ircumspect in his doinges.

Tho can consider what neede they have, & what is most meete to be ministred but of them for y same bisease.

SAN TO

Cap. 1.

An approved Medicine for an Ache or swelling.

AKE Time, Lauender cotten, Knotty Strawberies, of ech of the one handfull, then cut them and beate them in a Porter, when you have soe done, then take 4.02 5. Swallowes out of a Peste, being ripe, and beate the in y More ter with the Hearbes, butili you cannot perceive the feathers, and then take halie a pounde of fresh Butter busalted, and mingle them altogether, and let them stand so, the space of 24. hours, then seeth and straine them into a gally pot, or else into some earthen bestell. And so ble it twice a day, in anointing of the place where the griefe is, and in sine or sire dayes it will be whose. This hath bene of ten proued.

Cap. 2.

An other for the same,

Aik E of Sage, Rue, otherwise called hearb-grace, of ech of them one pounde, and halfe a pound of wormwood, and halfe a pound of Bay leaves, beate them altogether in a Mextex: then take three pounde of Sheepes suer, and cut it very smale, and put, it to the hearbes, then put it into a Mextex, and beate it with the hearbes, bneill fuer cannot be perceived: then take it out, and put thereto a vottle partie of Sallet cyle, and soe worke them altegether with your handes, until such time as they be very well steeped in the Cyle, then keepe it close in an earthen pot, so, the space of eight or nine paich, then seethe it in a brasse pot, with a softe fire, untilly strength of the heartres be gone (to trie it, take a spoonefull of it and put it into a sinnen cloth, and so straine it, and if there be any inice less in it, then is it not booles to his perfection, but if you find none therein, then is it well booled. And thus much you prome all good syntments made with bearbes,) then straine it and annoint the place grieved, often therewith

Cap. 3.

A present Remedy for an ould Ache.

Take very strong Aquanitx, and two spoonefuls of the water of Arkmart, and autoint the place where the Ache is, energy any two or three times, and it will specify heate it.

Cap. 4.

Another for the same.

The Aquacomposite and the oyle of Petes feet lake warme, and annothe the Patient upon the place of the griefe, laying warms clothes thereon:

Cap. 5-

A Medicine for an Ache, or shrinking of any Sinewes.

nantal, digana, da nahannaha man

by as even portions as you can gelie, and gather your hearbes when they be drie, from any raine and sewe: Beats them in a morter very small, then take Pais butter well clarified, and put it to the hearbes, and mingle it in a vestell, and then let it stand source dates, then set it over the ser and let it seeth till all the Arength of the hearbs be gone, then take a little of it in a spoone, and let it drop voon your nails and if it he greene as the Emeraulo, it is perfect, and then put it into an earthen pot, and when you will be it, you must warme it into an earthen pot, and when you will be it, you

Сар. б.

A perfect Medicine for an ache or Sciatica.

Mingle them both together, and let the Patient anoint the place where the paine is: then let him take Wooll which is newly plucked from the Sheepes backe, and let him lay it thereupon, Flet him wrappe it well with warme clothes.

Cap. 7.

A present remedie for all maner of aches, and bruses in the bones.

quantitie of Baline, and Smallege, and frampe them, then take a pounde of Wall-woort, and frampe them be to well together, then make them into round balles, and let them lye for the space of eight daies after, and then Tampe them them againe as you did before, then take it and trye it, and traine it, and put it into an earthen put, and foe ble it, and this will helpe the bruile if it bee never foe blacke. Probatum elf.

Aches.

Cap. 8.

An approued Medicine for an ache or swellinge.

The the flowers of Camamill, and Rose-leanes, of ech of them a like quantitie, and seeth them in white wine, and make a plaisfer thereof, and let it be laide as hote as may be suffered to the place greened, and this will both ease the paine, and assuage the swelling. D. Bartlet.

Cap. 9.

An other for the lame.

ARE a smale quantitie, of oyle de ay, Aquanitæ, and mingle them both together, and let the Patient as noint the place which is greened and it helpeth him.

Cap. 10.

A soueraigne Medicine for an ache in the a like quantitie, and halfe as much Mustard-seede, and beate them very smale, then take it and grinde it in a Hustard Querne, with the best white wine vineger y may be had, then take it and spread it byon a sambes skinne, and ray it to the place greened, and this will by gods grace help you, Probatum est.

Cap. 11.

A precious Ointement or Oyle, for all maner of Aches or swellinges in the Armes, Knees, Legges, or Feete, being taken with Colde.

TAKE agallon of Sallet Oyle, and of Sage, Lauender, Southernewood, Wormewood, and Camamill, ech of them a like quantitie, then cut the Pearles very smale, and put them into the Oyle, & Kirre it well together, Flet them stand in a vason of Latren, or eise some other like thing, for the space of a full moneth (but you must be sure to put as many Hearbes into the Oyle, as will make it very thicke) and soe let it stand untill the hearbes be rotten, then make a fire of coales, and let the valon thereon, and fo let it boyle for the space of three houses, or somewhat more, then take it from the fire, and let it coole fomewhat, and when you see that it is but Wike warme or somewhat better, then take a bag made of Aronge Cannes, & with a ffaffe, Araine out all the substance, as cleane as you may, and then put it into a glasse or gatlypot, or else into some earthen vessell, and Coppe it very close, and it will continue in his vertue very lange. This is good for any Wounde or old bruse, and also for the shrinking of any Sinewes, and all maner of sores,

Cap. 12.

An Excellent good and approued Oyntement, for all maner of Aches, Agues, Bruses, Goutes, Cankers, Lamenes, Stitches, or hardenes of the Spleene, and for all maner of paine in the Heade and Eares, Aches.

ARC Sage & Rue, of ech of them me pound, Wormwood, and Bay leanes, of ech of them halfe a pound, of Specyes fuct cleans picked from the skinne, the quantitic of three pound, and a pottle of Oyle oliffe, & choppe the hearbes very smalle, and then Campe them as small as map be, then speeds the fuet very fine, and put them alltagether: and then frampe the hearbes and the fuer, butill fuch time, as the fuer cannot be perceived, then take it footh, and put it, into a faire panne, and put the Oyle therein, and confeit close, and soe let it fram for the space of twelve daies: then take it footh and breake it with your handes into a braile panne, and let it byon a loft fire, and you must be alwaies ifirring of it, butill such time as the hearbes be cracklinge, then take it of and firaine it thorough a canues cloth, into an earthen pot, and lo keepe it. If or those vehement aches, whe you thall lay any of this syntement byon the place greened, you must take Wooll that groweth between the speeps leas, or else of the longest of the Wooll, Flet it be earned in broad flakes, and batted upon a linnen cloth, and foe keepe that alwaies to it.

Cap. 13.

An approued Medicine for an ach in any of the Huckle bones, Thighes, Armes, Shoulders &c. which commeth by taking of Colde or &c.

Take a Kettle of faire running Water, and boyle 3. I or fower woodden Dishes therein (which Potage are vsually eaten in) and let them boyle a good space over the fire, then take one of the same Dishes, and with a linnen cloth, wipe of the water which is within, and upon y size of it, then take the same Dishe and whelme it up in the Joint, Sinem, or place greened, as hore as it may possiblic be suffered, and so keepe is thereon untill it be coid, then take an other of the dishes and doe as a foresayd, and so the thirde or fourth, and let the partie greeved vse this for a certaine space both niorning a evening. And this without all doubt will helphin, for this hath holpen many that their success were shronke by, but the partie greeved must applie hote Woollen Clothes or esse some Lambs-skinne, or the skinne of a Hare, or Conny, to kepe in the heate when he taketh in by dishes from it.

Cap. 14.

A medicine for an ache.

handfull, and seeth them in a quart of Alc, with sweete Butter, a wall the place well therewith that akes, and also binde the hearbes to y place as hote it may be suffered.

Cap. 15.

Another medicine for an ache.

fell, and Cleaners, of each of them a handfull, depentl these together between two tiles, then lay these heards to the place where the griefe is, but let the heards be walked before it be dried, and this helpeth.

Cap. 16

T For aches and swellinges in the knees,

Them together a good space, and whe it is halfe boyled, put into it a good peece of newe fresh Butter, and let them boyle together from a Quart to a Pynt, and when you goe to bedde, bathe your knees therewith, and wette a cloth three or fower times double therein, and lay it to your knees as hote as you can suffer it, and soe let it continue all night, and in this sort let him ble this sip or seamen times, & doubtles it will helpe you. This hath been well proved.

Aches.

Cap., 17.

A very good Medicine for any maner of aching fores.

ART the inice of Smallage, of Sorrell, of Waybred, of ech of them like much: take Hunny, and the white of a newe layou Egge, of either of them a like quantitie allo, and mingle all these together till they thicken, let it come neere no ster but all rawe a could, lay it on the soze.

Cap. 18.

A plaister for an Ache.

I spoonefull of Tarre, a penymorth of Treacle, the quastite of a tennis ball, a spoonefull of Tarre, a penymorth of Treacle, the quastity of a tennis ball, of Roslin, & a spoonefull of Hunnye, boyle it oner the sier in a kettle, and trive it well toges ther, untill it be well melted, then take a sheepes skinne that is newe killed, and make holes in it with a bookyn, & spread the sleshye side of the skinne, and say it to the ache as hote as you may suffer it, for it hath been produce.

Cap. 19.

An excellent good oyle, for all manner of aches, brules and straininges of the sinewes. an Dre gall, a pinte of Aqua-vira a pinte of Rose was ter, Bay leaues, Rosemarie stripped from the stalking, Strawberie leaues, rootes and stringes, Lauender-couen, of euerie of these a handfull beate them small, and put them into the sozesayd stuffe, wheeth it ouer a sire of coles, in a paneful wo gallons, and at your owne perrill, let not the stance touch the stuffe, let it seeth berie well, and then take it of, the it stand butill it be almost could, then straine it through a course linnen cloth, (but not the bottome of the sayd siequez) then put it into a giasse, and so keepe it, and when you are payned, anoynt your place where your griese commonlye wseth.

Cap, 20.

A soueraigne oyntment for any manner of ache or Swelling.

Butter, & a good quantity of smalage, & malowes, and a good quantitie of oyle of neates feete, then take the, and stampe them verie well altogether, then frye them, and strayne them in a earthen vessell that is cleane, and when the Patient will vie it, let him anoput himselfe therewith, vesoze a good fire, and let him take heede that hee doe not take could upon it.

Cap. 21.

An oyntment for all manner, of Aches.

TARE agood quantitie of Smalage, and put thereto fome Aquavitæ, then straine it, and put thereto a good E quantitie quantitie of Boares greace, and temper them verie well together, and let the patient be anounted therewith both moze ning and eneming before the fire, for the space of 5 or 6 days together if the paine one continue so long. This hath been well propued.

Agues.

Cap. 22.

For an Ague.

Ake of red Sage, of Smalage, of ground Ivie, of Bay Salt, of Plantine leaves, of greene Glasse, of each of these a handfull, and put therein a little Rose vineger to make it mouth, and with a linnen cloth bind it to both the wristes of the Patient. For this hath been an approved medicine.

Cap. 23.

Another for the same.

Ake the greate or fat that is under the manes of horses, and melt the same in a new earthen pot, and straine it and melt the same in a new earthen pot, and straine it into a gally pot or some such thing, and when the Patient feeleth the Ague comming, let the Chine of his Back tient feeleth the Ague comming, let the Chine of his Back te anounted there with, and within Rine dayes he shall bee hole, keeping in the meane space a reasonable viet,

Cap. 24.

Another for the same.

Ake the rolks of an Egge, and put thereto a quantitye of grolle venten Pepper, and two sponefull of Aqua-vitæ, and dinke it could, and after you have taken this dinke walks for the space of an house, and forbeare other dinke as much as possible you may.

Cap. 25.

A verie good medicine for an Ague.

Tak Eahanofull of Harts-horne, that groweth in the field, and a handfull of Bay-falt, and beate them both together in a mozter and lay this coboth your wriftes and this will helpe you.

Cap. 25.

Another for the same.

Plantine leaves, of each of them a handefull, be at ethem in a Potter untill they be very smalle, then take them and devide them into sower partes, and then lay two partes thereof unto your breastes, and the other two partes to the boughts of your Armes: and an houre before your sitte both come, then take a pinte of good stale Ale, and see the it from a quarte, to a pinte, and continually as any froth both arise, shome it of, then put into it, a cruste of white bread, and let it seeth in the Ale, 7 wh & you perceive your sit coming, drink it warme, and eate the cruste, you must be this drinke dueringe all the time of your sickness, for it is very holesome and good.

Cap. 27.

An other for the same,

Take

of each of them one ounce, tine Sugar three ounces, and aspooneful of Pepper, seeth all these together, in the Ale, from the quantitie asoresay till it come to a pinte, then take it and straine it through a une cloth, and set the Patient vinke a good draught of it as hote as hee maye abide to drinke it, a little before his sit commeth.

Cap. 28.

Another for the same.

Weede, by uise the May-weede, and put the surce there of into the Malmsey, and let the Patient drinke there of, as often as he shall thinke good, and this will help him. This is also good against the Plague, and good to comfort nature, being dronke as a toresayo.

Cap. 29.

Another for the same,

ARE a good quantitie of the blades of Daffadillies, and bruise them, and seeth them in a pinte of Ale, or Wine, and put into it a sponefull of Graines bruised, and let the patient drinke thereof, halfe anhower before his sit both come, and this will help him.

Cap. 30.

Averie good drinke for an Ague.

TAKE Bay leaves, and Sage leaves, of each of them a like quantitie, then take Bay-berries and bzuise them veriegrolive, and mingle these all together, and put the into a quart of White-wine, with them for a good space then straine it through a fine cloth, and a little before the sitt commeth let the Patient vinke thereof.

Cap. 31.

An proued medicine for an Ague,

AKE three quartes of faire Runing water, and put it into an earthen pot, and put thereto a good handfull of Violet leaues, and Flowers, boyle them to the space of a quarter of an houre together, then take it of the fire, and put thereto a samcerfull of Wheaten branne, and couer the pot a good while, then straine it through a fine linnen cloth, and when it is could put thereto a good quantitie of fine Sugar, then let the partie greenes dzinke thereof, both mozning and eneming lasting, also let him befoze he eate any meate in the morning eate 6 or 7 Damasins, and at night let him eate rolled Apples with Sugar, & at Dinner let him dzinke white wine, with the water aboutlayo mirco. This hath been much produed.

Cap. 32,

Another for the same.

AKE aquartofnewe Milke, as new as you can get it trom the Cowe and seeth it, and when it doth seeth, put into it a good lumpe of Roch Allum, and stirre it butill it hath a good Eurde on it, and when it is verie well Curved, scumme of the curve cleane, and when you have so done, then take the same brinke & drinke it, as often as you thinke convenient, and as hote as it may possible be suffered, but put away the curde for it is not good.

Agues.

Cap. 33.

An excellent remedie for an Ague.

Ake Burre rootes, and red Nettle crops, a seeth them in stale Ale, and clarificit, and give the sieke thereof to drinke, about such time as the could sit beginneth to come, a after the heate be past, when you see that he beginneth to sweate, give him to drinke Posset-ale made with manifold and Fennell, but see that the Posset-ale well clarified: vsethis medicine for it will take away the Ague with in three or fourc sitts at the vttermost.

Cap. 34

Another for the same.

Ake Nettles, Cobwebbs, and Salt, and beare them to gether in a woodden diff, and lap it to the left arms of the fiche, and it will take away the heate of the Ague.

Cap. 35.

Another for the same.

AKE a tost of Bread, and speade it outer with Treacle, and let the patient eate it, before the sit commeth, at the leaste three severall times, for the space of iii. dayes, Probatum est. Per Guilielmum Lenthell, Oxon Armig.

Cap. 36.

An other present remedie for an Ague,

ARE two ounces of bay falt, Two ounces of white Frankensence, a handfull of Smalage, beate them altogether flay them to your wristes of both your hands, and to the bowes of your armes let this be done a houres before the sit doth come, this hath been proued.

Cap. 37.

Another for the same.

Ake two or three clones of Garlike and bruile them, a penyworth of Aqua-vicx, halfe a pynt of Ale, and leeth them altogether, and drinke it as hote as you may suffer to drinke it a little before the sit commeth.

Cap. 38.

An other for the same,

The Soote, yolkes of Egges, bay falt, and Pepper, and mingle them together, and lay it to the writtes of the Patient, doe this twice a day for the space of Three or source daies and it will take away the Ague. For this hath been often proved.

Cap. 39.

An approoued medicine for a burning Ague.

Take

Ake the quantitie of a quart of Runing water, and halfe a Dozen of Orenges, and then pill awaye both the wp-per rinde, and the white skinne and picke out the Kernels out of them, then take and stirre them, and seeth them in the sayd water, butili the water be consumed halfe away, then take the quantitie of 4 ounces of Sugar, and boyle it a little space therein, and when you perceive that it is soopen inought, then straine it and when it is colve, drinke it and so we it for the space of three dayes, and is neede require ble it oftener, but if your burning bee behement, when your stomake will serve, stampe some Sorrell seate the surce there of with your meate, this doe and it will helpe you.

Cap.~ 40.

Another for the same.

Ake Smalage, Sheapheards-purse, and Liverwort, of everie of them a like quantitie, Bay-salt and Frankencence as much as you hall thinke needefull, beate all these together, and say it byon a linnen cloth and binde it to the inside of the writte of your lest arme, whe this for the space of 9 dayes together, and it will helpe this disease sor it hath been often prosued.

Cap. 41.

An excellent remedie for a quotidian Ague.

Ake a quart of Itale Ale, a handfull of somewhat more of red Sage, a penyworth of unbeaten Pepper, take and boyle these altogether, from a quart to a pynt, & when it is soo clarific and Araine it, and halfe an houre before the sit commeth drinke a good draught thereof and walke ther.

on, and it will presently beine you. This hath beene often proued.

Cap. 42.

An other for the same,

the quantitie of a good handfull, stampe them both together in a Poster untill such time as they are heaten very smale, and straine it, then take halfe as much as the inice of the same is, of small Ale, and mingle them together, and then let the Patient druke the same warme, a little before such time as his sitte doeth come (that is to say) when he perceiveth any grudging bypon him. This must be used three or sower severall times at the least, and let the Patiet goe to bedde, and have as many clothes layde uppon him, as he is able to be are or suffer, and soe let him bee continually kepte, untill his sitte be overpast, and thus in three or sower times doing, he shall be holpen by gods help, This hath been diners and sundrie times well proved.

D. H.

Cap 43.

A very good Drinke to be vsed for any maner of Ague.

I ARE a quarte of Ale that is not over-fronge, and beyle therein a good quantitie of Centorie, and let the Patient drinke it luke warme.

Cap. 44.

An approued Medicine for a tercian ague,

Agues.

quantitie of a quarter of a pinte, or eyther of them, and put thereto a penymorth of leane Trieacle, and halfe a quarter of an ounce of grole beaten Pepper, warme all these together, The still stirring it with a knife or els with some other Instrument, and give it to the Patient to drinke, as hote as he may possible suffer to take it, a litle before the sitt commert, and set him lye in his bedde and sweate very well. This hath holpen many.

Cap. 45.

A Medicine For a tercian Ague.

five of fire croppes of Rolemane, and trampe them alsogether, and take the juice thereof and drink it in Ale luke warme, a little before such time as the fitte both come,

Cap. 46.

An Excellent Remedie for a Quartaine Ague.

and put thereto a quarter of an ounce of Pepper. but fed but a very litle, and two penymouth of Trieacle, wannointe the handes knomacke & wrister, with the asoresaide thinges, being all mingled together, halte anhouse before y title commeth, but let it be laide too, as hore as the Patient may suffer it, and let him sweate well by on it, and this will speedely helpe him, Probatum est.

Another for the same.

The Snailes which be in shells, to the quantitie of two handefulls, Bay salte, and Mallowes, of ecahe one of them a handefull, beace all these together, and say it to the Soles of bottomes of your seets, before y sit cometh,

Cap. 48.

An other present remedie for a Quartaine Ague, and for the drought that commeth thereof.

all of one collour, of ech of them a portle, then take three or fower handfulls of Mouse-eare, well picked & washed, Arippe it into the Wine and Milke, A temper them altogether, Tet them Ande soe, for the space of one nighte, Then put them into a faire Still, Toe distill them with a soft sier, then take the water and put it into a Glasse, and set it where it may stande in the Sunne, for the space of sue daies, Tet the Pacient when he is drye in his Ague, drinke thereof three or sower times, The shall be rid of his Ague, and this drinke will quanch his thirst if he be never soe drye.

Cap. 49.

A very good Medicine for an Ague.

ARE a spoonefull of greene Glasse beate to powder, a 3 spoonefulls of Stone honny, a handfull of red Sage, mingle these with a head of Garlicke, a put thereto, as many Cob-webbes as will temper the same: a set it be in bignes, to the quatitic of an egg shell full in all, a then take the aforesaide thinges and binder them about both the wrises of the Patient, and this will helpe is in. Probatum est,

Cap. 50.

A Remedie to take away the drought in an Ague .

titie, and a certaine quantitie of Strawberrie leaves, & Violet leaves, boyle them altogether in a pottle of very faire Running water, untill it be consumed from a pottle to a quarte, then take the Hearbes and Graine them, and then take halfe a pound of good Almondes, and blaunch them, & beate and Graine them with the saide water, and put Suger therein, and drinke it warme, one this for the space of sue or sire vaies, and it will helpe him.

Cap. 51.

An excellent Rule to be observed in the makinge of Drinke and Pottage, for them that are infected with an ague.

TARE Buglosse Borrage, Endine, Fennell Rootes, redsage, Lettice, Pruines, Parsly rootes, greate Reisos, Sinckefoile, Sorrell, and Succorie, of each of them a like quantitie, and put all these into his pottage, and like wise in Posset ale, and Almond Pilke and this is very good.

Cap. 52.

A very good remedie against corrupt ayres.
wherein the agues are first engendred and gotten.

them one handefull, then take them, and stange them and straine them with ale, and with a Liquorice sticke brused, and then boile it, and clarifie it very well, and make it pleasant with Suger, and drinke thereof, every morninge luke warms 3. spoonefulis, for the space of 3. or 4. daies, fit will preserve one from all corrupt aires and infection.

Cap. 53.

An approued Medicine to coole the heate of the Backe, and also to cure the disease called Gomoria Passio.

AKE Water-cressets, and Colombines, of each of them a good quantitie, and seeth them in Low Wilke, and if it be for a man, the let it be the femalle Cresset, and if it be for a woman, then take y Wale Cresset, and whe y hearbs are well boyled in the Milke, then take it from the sire, and let the Patient eate thereof, with a litle white Breade therein, and let him drinke it also both Mozening and enening, for a certaine space, and by gods grace it will helpe him. Probacum est.

Cap. 54.

A Soueraigne Medicine for the weaknes of the Backe.

Take Daisie rootes, plantine, Bursa pastoris, Centumodie, croppes of Acornes, of eth of them a handfull, as much of Bole armoniacke, and the powder of a Harrs horne, then take a Bucke Cony that is fatte, and boyle all these together in white wine, and water, and let the water a the wine be of equall poscious, and set them hope but ill the sless of the Conny be seperated from the bones, then take y Conny and the other suffe out of the broath, and straine the broath into a cleane vessell, and les it stance untill it be tur-med to a Hellye, and when you are in your bedde, cause your Backe to be anointed therewith, by a Chasing-dish of coles, to the space of three Rightes together, Flay thereon a line nen cloth warme (but in any wise chase not your backe over much) and this will helpe you. Probacum est,

Cap. 55.

I An other for the same,

eleane, and let them bestamped small in a Pozter, and put unto them the Poske of a new laide Egge, and the quantitie of a quarter of a pinte of Muskadine, and let the Patient Pinke thereof both Pozninge and Euening, and it will helpe him.

Cap. 56,

A present remedie for a heate and paine in the Backe.

like quantitie, a put thereto as much Saunders, as you hall thinke good, and let them be Keeped in your Rosewater, for the space of 24, hours, then washe your Back as often as you can couenietly every day, for y space of sire or seaven daies, and this will both assuage the paine, and take away the heate, and much comforte the Raines.

Cap. 57.

Another medicine for the paine in the Backe.

Take

These a handful then stampe them altogether in a mozeter, or other stone vessell, and let it be freed with May Butter, and anoint your backe with it warme, but in any case beware of taking cold thereon.

Cap. 58 .

A medicine to clense the backe and purge the reines.

Tak E 2 Parlly rootes, & picke out the pithes of thent, and a Fennell roote, and put to it Pellitory of y wall, & walk them cleane, & boyle them in Poslet-ale, & drinke thereof when you goe to bed, and as often as you wake every night voe the like.

Cap. 59.

A good medicine for the reines of the backe,

Ake halfe an ounce of Venice Turpentine, and let it be be ry well walhed in Plantine water, or in Rose-water, and then mire it with fine white Sugar, and make there of 4 or fine balles, of the which you must eate the ein a more ning salting, and dayly drinks a little white-wind or rennish wine pumeriarly after.

Cap. 60.

An excellent good medicine for the weaknes in the Backe, and also to restore nature.

The aquart of Sacke, a top of Rolemary, Succory, Peny-royall, of ech a like quantitie, Ginger & Nutmeggs, as much as will burne the wine, the take 2 newe tay de Egges, yolkes & all, & temper them with 3 of 4 sponefulls of Red-rose-water, & put thereto a good pecce of fine Sugar, the take the burne sacke, & burne it agains with the eggs, & put into it a litle Mace, & it will be in many of a caudie, the put to it some sale to yie, & mire it with the burnes seeke, & let the patient drinke this thrise a day, (that is to say in it marries) after vinner, and when you goe to bedde, and this will helpe you in a short space, for it hath beene proued.

Backe

Cap. 61

A very good Medicine to strengthen the backe.

ces, and as many Dates the the stones picked out, the Pith also, then take a good handefull of the toppes of Rosemarie, and let all these be boyled together, until it be consumed from a quarte to a pinte, then take the Oyle of two of three new laide Eggs, and take of the rinde that is aboute the yolkes, and then put the yolkes into the Ale, thoyle them well together, and stirre them, and soe let the Patiet drink hereof, both Dorning and Euening, for the space of sue of six daies, and this will strugthe his backe maruelous much, Probatum est.

Cap. 62.

A Medicine for the heare of the backe,

TAKE Voguentum frigidum Galeni, Ziii. and spread this Oyntement upon a fine lynnen cloth, but you must first vippe it in Rose-water, and then warme it against the sire, and say it uppon the kidneses, and when it wareth botte take it of, and say it to an other place

Cap. 63.

An other for the same,

Pake the water of Plantine, distilled, of els the inice thereof, and put to the leaves, and the leaves of Red-roses distilled, and also the water of Red-roses, and the water of Redrose vineger, then put all these together into an earthen pot, and put into the water, a fine linnen cloth to steepe, then take it forth againe, and with a sewe leaves of a Red-rose-cake, lay it to the backe of the Patient, and when it wareth hote, wse another cloth dipped therein, as a foresayde. This hath been often produed by Doctor Huicke,

Cap. 64.

A verie good medicine for one that hath a weake Backe.

If A E fine, or fir croppes of red Neepe, and two spones full of Archangell flowers, and thread verte fine, then take two or three new layde Egges, and temper al these thinges together, then take a little sweete butter, (that is but little salted,) and make three or foure fritters, and lett them be freed in some both earthen pan, and let the Patient eate them, without either tread or salt, but onely with a little sine Sugar strawed uppen them. This hath been proued,

Cap. 05.

A verie good plaisser to ease any paine or cricke in the Backe.

quantitie, and of Cumfrey leaves and reaces a good quantitie, and of Cumfrey leaves and reactes, 1 eunce of Plantine and Bursa Pastoris, Ana 1 ounce beate them altogether berie sine, and put to them a spoonefull of Honny, and then free them in a frying Panne, and devide

Backe.

denine it into fower partes, and make of every parte thereof, a Plaister, and so lay to the backe of the Paciet every night when he goeth to bedde, one of them, and by gods grace this will speadely helps him.

Cap. 66.

A very good Oyntement for the backe.

Alt E sower ounces of Vnguentum frigidum Galeni, and an ounce of the inice of Houslecke, two drams of Mirtle, and as much of burned Leade, tone drame of Camphire, halfe a draine of Red-rose leaves, and as much red Currall, and according to arte, make all these into an Oyntement, in a Porter of sead or Stone, and set the Patient annointe his backe often there with, Probatumest.

Cap. 67.

A very good restorative for the backe.

maunder, a handefull of Claric, a handfull of which Hisop, a handefull of which Time, one braunch of Rosemarie, a good quatitie of english Sastron, a dishe of sweete Butter, and a good prece of Suger, then boyle all these together, whill the one halfe be consumed, then straine it, and let the Patient take it both Morning and Eucning, and this will belye him. This hath beene proved.

Cap. 68.

An other good restorative for the backe,

Tee that it is readie to feeth, take the quantitie of a Mut of Roch Allum, and stampe it small, and put it into y Milke, and stirre it with a spoone, and couer it close, & when the Curve both arise, take it of, and let the Patient drinke thereof morning and evening, for y space of sue or six daies together, and it helpeth him very much.

Cap. 69.

An other for the same,

If not, then take a quarte of Towe Milke which is new, a handfull of Otemeale, & a good deale of the Pith of an Oxe backe, & Campe them together, & put them into the Milke, and when it is sodden Craine it through a fine lunen cloth, and let the Patient drinke it Porninge and Eveninge and this will helps him. Probatum est.

This is also good for them that are in a Consumption,

Cap. 70.

A good Medicine for the Raines of a mans backe.

finely beate, & let it soke in the Aqua-vitæ 7 or 8 vaies together, then straine it, & let y Patient drinke it, & it will helpe him. Yf you canot get Aqua-vitæ, the take good white wine, or else stale Ale, any of these will serve.

Cap. 71.

A good Medicine for the weakenes of the backe.

Backe.

quantitie of fine Suger, and Red-role water, Buglosse water, and Borrage water, of enery one of them a good quantitie, and mingle them together, and let the Patient or inhet wood three good staughtes thereof, and a little Diafaturion, This is a very comfortable Drinke to coole the Stomacke and the Raines, and it will strengthen the backe very much.

Cap. 72.

A Marueilous good Oyntement for the backe.

In ounce of the inice of House eke, two brams of Mircle, and as much of burned Lead, one dram of Camphire, halfe a dram of Red-rose seaves, and as much red Currall, and according to Arte, make these into an Oyntement, in a Porter of Leade, and when the partie greened will be it let him annoint himselfe before the fire, and this will present lye helpe him.

Cap. 7.3.

A Medicine for the heate of the Raines, and to avoide bliftering in the mouth.

one ounce and feeth these in quart of Whay, having been well clarified, and let the Patient Drinke halfe a punt thereofat the least, every morning. Probatum est.

A present remedie to stay the running of the Raynes.

I rie smale, and put it into a quart of new intlke, wheth it, and put therein a good quantitie of Sugar, and whe it is wel boyled, straine it, and let the Patient eate the milk, and this will helpe him without all doubt.

Cap. 75.

A present remedie to helpe the running of the Raynes.

Take Venice Eurpentine, and wall it cleane, in these waters following, Viz. in Plantine water, in Red-rose water, and in water of Licquorice, and when you have walhed it verie well, then take the Turpentine, and seeth it with as much white Masticke, & when it is sodden inough it will breake to a powder, it is easily perceived uppon a kniues poynt, then take halfe an ounce of Numegs beaten to pouver, sput to it the like quantitie of the pouver of Venice Turpentine, and halfe an ounce of white Sugar, and mingle them verie well together, then let the Patient put a quantitie of this pouder into an Egge of two which must bec but reare rosted, and so lec him supp it of, and let him eate no= thing for the space of an houre after, but if hee eate two or three of these Egges sucrie morning so exclied, it will bee the better, butill such time as he be whole, wthen let him prink halfe an ounce of Red-rose water, & halfe an ounce of Plantine water, after such time as he hath eaten his talt Egge.

Rate that hee must eate. Two of these Egges ascresards in his bed before hie doe arise in the morning, and the there one houre after that he is risen by out of his bedoe, and after the space of one houre moze, he must brinke the water abouesaide, and then he must walke a good while after it,

Cap. 76.

Another for the same,

flowers, (viz) Dialaturion, and the rootes of Stock-beades in varrengroundes, and preserve them as you doe Therries, or other thinges, then make a Caudle of Muscadine, and boyle the same rootes therein, with a Nutmegge grated, and a litle white Masticke, then let the partie greved eate of the rootes, and drinke of the same Caudle, of Muscadine, and this will presently helpe him.

Gapi. 77.

Another for the same,

awaye cleane, and set them in the sire, but they bee bloud warme, then take halfe a Nutmegge, & a good peece of Suger Candie, & a pretty quantitie of Currall sinely beaten to powder, then take a litle Cinamon & Amber, of ech of them a like quartitie, & mire all these together, & put them into the Egge, and let the Patient suppe it of, or eise let him toste a peece or two of sine white breade, and powze thereon the polkes of the eggs, and then straw the aforesaid powder uppon it, and see eate it, and this will presently helps him, This hath beene prouch.

er An

Another maruelous good remedie for the runninge of the Raines.

take a drame of cleare Massicke, and a drame of Mirre, and three scruples of Camphire, of y Coppes of Acorns and yellow Amber, of ech of them a like quantitie, Fiet the Patient wie this sirst with a quantitie of Tenice Turpentine, cleane washed in Plantine water, Fasterwardes in the yolke of an Egge, which is reare rosted: But if the cause be hote, then take three drams of Bole armoniack, and put it thereto, Probatum est.

Cap. 79.

An Excellent good and an approved Medicine, for the running of the Raines.

ARE May-weede, Plantine, Neepe, Claric, Balme, and Daysie rootes, of ech of them a good handefull, and boyle them all in a quarte of pure Malmesse, and boyle it butill the one halfe be consumed. Eart the Patient drinke thereof Harning & Tuening, and this will kay the Runing of the Raines, although y Patient hath bene long troubled therewith, This hath beene often proued. D. L.

Cap: 80.

An other present remedie for the runninge of the Raines.

AKE a good quantitie of Aenice Turpentine, and a Nutmegge of two beaten small, and a good quattitie of Cinamon ground to power, then take sine of six Date Stones, a grind the also butill they be come to a fine power, and mire all these veriewell together, and then make it into builets pellet like, and wape it in white Sugar, and let himparient swallow downs three or foure of these pellets energy marning mert his hart, and let him walke balse an houre after it, before he doesicher eate or drinke, and it will speed to helpe him. Probatum est.

Tol. i.

Cap. Er.

Another principall medicine for the runing of the Raines.

Take a hime of tine Manchet, and tolt it at the her but till it be browne one both lides, then take Two newe land Egges, and denide the whites from the yolkes as cleane as you can, then take the two yolks, and spread them upon the tolt of bread, then take two penywerth of white Sugar Candie, and brate it berie small in a morter, and strawe it upon the yolkes of the Egges, as they see upon the toste, and let the Patient eate it in the morning fasting; and let him fast an houre or two after he hath taken it, and so let him continue this for the space of sine or six mornings togewher, and by Gods grace it will helpe him, although he hath been greened therewith 7 yeares before. Probatum est.

Per maister sames.

Cap. 82.

Another medicine for the same.

Ake a tost of fine Manchet, and tost it on both the sides, and strawe upon it Sugar Candie, Nutmegs, Amber, and Currall, of each of them equall postions, being all sinely bearen into postoer, a slittle grated Sinamon, unugle all these together, and strawe bypon the tosted bread and let the the Patient eate this fasting every Poining, for the space of three or fower vaies together, and by gods helpe he shall be cured. This hath holpen many that have been sore trowbled with this discase.

Cap. 83.

Another for the same.

Ak E Pellitorie of the wall, Wilde Time, and Pally, of ech of them a good handefull, & boyle them in a quart of Aronge Ale, and let it boyle, but ill the one halfe bee confumed, and let the partie greened drink the quantitie of halfe a pinte thereof at a time, every Morning and Evening for the space of Rine or tenne daies together, & it helpeth.

Cap. 84.

A very good water to washe the Yarde, of one that hath lately had the running of the raines, and hath beene cured thereof.

The Woodbinde, Daysies and Plantine leaves, of schoschem three good handesuits, and a good quantitie of the best english Honny that pour can get, and a peece of Roch Allum as bigge as a Citallant, then put all these together, in a quart of faire running water, and a good quantitie of Red-rose Water, and boyle them in an earthen pot, or Highlin, and let it be close covered, so, the space of halfe an house, and then straine it through a sine linnen cloth, and then take of this water being luke warme, which a searinge squirte it by into the Yarde of the Hatient, and let the Pipe be put in, an inchor somewhat more, and set it be alwaies bery stronglye spouted by, whereby the Water may goe be-

Belly.

Ponne the fore place, and see ble it every day three times for the space of one whole Poneth together, and then he shall be quite sound from this disease for ever after.

Cap. 185.

An other casic Medicine to helpe the runninge of the Raines, and also to scoute the Yarde.

mingle them both together, and Wood-binde water, and mingle them both together, and with a searing, let the Partie greened squirte himselse as abouesaide, both Poining and Euening, and as often as he shall thinke good and doubtles this will helpe him. Probatum est.

Cap. 86.

A Medicine to take away the paine or gripinge in the Belly.

on the contrary live where the paine is, and it will orine it out: and if it be laive to the Mauill of the Patient, it will take the paine cleane as way, This hath holpen many.

Cap. 87.

A very good Medicine for one that is hard bounde in the Belly.

ARC a good quantities Hempe-seede, and seeth it in faire running Water, and when it is well sodden Graine strains it thosough a fine cloth, and let the Patient drinks a good draught thereof when he goeth to bedde, and this will make him Lapatine, For it hath beene proved.

Cap. 88.

An approved Medicine for a Laske or losenes in the belly.

boyle the Aquacomposita, and a new layde Egge, and boyle the Aquacomposita with the Egge, untill such time as it be daye, then take Suger and Cinamon, of ech of them a like quantie, and let the Patient eate it with be Egge, and this will helps him, probatum est.

Cap. 89.

Biles, Fellyns, or Vncomes.

A very good Medicine for any maner of Byle, Fellyne or vncome.

AK E Smallege, Rue, and red Sage, of ech of them a handefull, and a peece of Wheaten Leven, and a quantitie of the groundes of thronge Ale, and mingle all these together, and make a Plaister thereof, and let the Patient applie it oftentimes to the place gre ued, and this will presently helpe him, For this hath holpethem that were in greate icopardie to haue lost a ioynte thereby. T. H.

Cap. 91.

An other for the same,

Take Rep Sage, and Rue, of ech of them a like gaatitie, and choppe them very small, then take groundes of fronge Ale, and a good peece of browne Leven, & a fewe Trumes of browne bread, and using lethem all together, and put them into the saide, groundes of Ale, then seeth it untill it be thicke, and then make a Plaister thereof, and lay it warms to the sore place, and you shall sinde great ease thereby Probatumes.

Cap. 92.

An other Medicine for a Fellyn or Vncome.

It into a little Pypkinne, then take halfe a peny vilhe of sweete Biles, Fellyns, ot Vncomes. Fol. 19.

sweete butter, and sower or fine spoonefulls of Rose vineger, the leaves and all, and voyle them altogether, and lay it to the place greened, as hote as it may be suffered, and this will speacely helpe it, sor it hath beene often proced.

Cap. 93.

An other for the same

Them wells & all in a Horter, butill you fee them come to a Dalue, then spread a little thereof, bypon a linnen cloth, Tlav it to y sore, and when one Plaister is drye, then applye an other to the place agains, & it will byll the felline, & it will both heals it and drawe it, Probatum est.

Cap. 94.

An other for the same.

be gathered in Parch, and white woortes, c. ech of the a like quantitie, then take Rutty Bacon, a little Butter, and a house Snaile, and mingle them very well together, and make a Plaisfer thereof, and lay it to the soze, and this will helpe him.

Cap. 95.

Another for the same.

of energy of them, what quantitie you shall thinke good, and then temper and beate them well together, and then Biles, Fellyns, or Vncomes.

then lay it to the Fellyn, and this will presently being you.
Probatum est.

Cap. 70

Another for the same.

ownce, walh them altogether, and daye out the water, with a cleane cloth, and choppe them very small, then take the quantitie of a Tennis ball of lower Leven, & two spoonefuls of Tarre, and a spooneful of blacke sope, then stampe them altogether in a woodnen Dish, with a Pessle of wood, and make a Plaister of it, and lay it an Inche thicke bypon a perce of linnen cloth, og else byon a peece of leather, and enery Mozning & Guening, apply it to the soze, and this will both drawe it and heale it. This is also good for any maner of Byle Fellyn or yncome.

Cap. 98.

An Excellent good and approved Medicine for any Fellyn, old fore, or any other maner of Vncome wihat soeuer.

ger, heaten to powder, and feeth y Ale, untill such time as the Ale he halfe consumed away, then put into it a good peece of Suger, to the quantitie of a quarter of a pound, of somewhat more, then take it from the sire and let it coole, then take a sine sinnen cloth and then put the thinges afore said into it and then let them soke well, and soe lay it deponithe place greened, and this will before it, if it be never so sore.

Probatum cft. per M. L.

Cap. 99.

Cap. 99.

An other for the same,

bery well with white Wine, a beyle it butill such time as it be thicke, then take it and lay it byon the soze, as hote as you can suffer it, and this will both open the hole, and diame out the benome or sitth, and ease the Akinge, & it will also close and heale it by againe, & for mante of white wine, you may take cyther Ale or Beere. This Medicine will also heale the pricking of any Thorne or Needle in any ioynte, & yf the hole be never so close stopped vp againe.

Cap., 100.

An Excellent good Medicine for any maner of Biles, Whiteblowes, Fellyns or Vncomes.

butter, and stampe them in a Porter altogether, and make a Plaister thereof, and lay it to the place which is greened, and it will both ripen it and drawe it, and if you doe free it in a fryinge Panne, it will worke much more the better. Probatum est.

Cap. 101.

An other Experienced Medicine for to ripen any Byles, Whiteblowes, Fellyns, or any other Vncomes whatfoever, Bladder.

a good quantities. Sheepes suct, and cut and sheede it very swall, then take a handefull or two of Oteneale beaten very small, then set it over the sire, and seeth it until it was thicke, so that you may spread it upon a faire linnen cloth, and say it to the sore, as hote as ever you can passibly suffer it, and this will quickly riven it and breake it, without any greate paine, and when it is broken, then say a little Turpentine uppon a perce of whit Leather, and pricke it full of holes, and it will both draw and heale the sore, This hath beene often proved.

Cap. 102.

An Excellent good Medicine to purge the Bladder of one that cannot Pisse.

Taunders, the rootes and leaues of Hartes-toung, and a quantitie of Mayden heare, of echof them a like quantitie, and seeth them in white Winc & then straine it and give it to the Partie greened, to drinke sixt and last, and it will purge the Bladder, in a shorte time. Probatum est.

Cap. 103.

An other for the same,

and Parsie, of ech of them a like quantitie, and stampe them very well together, and temper them with white Wine, and give it to the Patient luke warme, and this will belyehim.

Cap . 104.

Cap. 104.

An other for the same .

TAKE Bernes of Iny, and beate them into powder, and put it into White wine, or else into Cale. And let he Patient drinke it as hote as he is able to suffer it, and it will doe him unch good, Probacum est.

Cap. 105.

Water that cannot, & also against the Stone.

Thereof, make a hole, and take out but the Yolke, and the white of it, and lay the hole of the same Egg, sown-wardes, uppon a hote Bricke-Kone, and soe let it remaine, untill it be well purged, soe that you may make pouder thereof, then take it and drinke it with White wine, twice every bay first and last, and it will helpe you. M. Rose,

Cap. 106.

M An other for the same,

TARE a quarte of very Kronge Ale, and fet it uppon the fire, then take a good handefull of Time, and binde it up very fast into a litle bunch, and soe seethe it in the Ale, untill such time as you doe perceive the strengthe theresof to be cleane gone into the Ale, and let the Partie greened drinke a good draughte theereof every day both in the Mozininge and Eveninge, for the space of sue or strenges toge.

Bladder .

ther, and it will helpe him. Probacumest.

Cap. 107.

An other for the same.

The agood quantitie of the seedes of red Nettles, and put them eyther into your Ale, or esse into your Potage, and so drinke or eate often thereof, and this will helpe you presently. R. Cox, This is also good against the Stranguarie.

1980 54100 Cap. 108.

A medicine for one that cannot pisse.

The a hint stone, and lay it in the ster, and there let it remains untill it he red hotte, and then put it into the Ale that the partie grieved both drink and then let him drinke a good draught thereof whilest it is warme, and hee thall sind emaruellous great ease thereby.

Cap. 109.

Another for the same.

Ake a quarter of a handfull of Parlly, and as much red Fennell, and walh and thredde them veries small, a put them into a cup of stale Ale, and make a posset therwith, and drinke the Ale and it helpsth.

Cap. 110.

An other medicine for one that pisseth Bloud.

Take

Take Burla Pastoris, Parsly-seede, and Ambros, of each of them a handfuil, stampe them altogether, a soke them verie well with Goates milks, and then straine it thosough a fine linnen cloth and give it to the Patient to drinke and this will helpe him. Probatum est.

Cap. III.

T verie good medicine to cause one to pisse that cannot,

The a verye goed quantitie of the best English Saffron, that you can possibly get, and beate it into sine powder, and then take the like quantitie of pure Black Sope, and mingle them both verie well together, and spreade them bypon the sleshye side of a peece of sine Speepes leather, and then lape it byon the Nauill of the partie greened, and it will procure strine within one houre, or a little more. Probatum est per I. I.

Cap. 112.

A medicine to prouoke vrine.

in a quart of good Ale, and led them seeth untill the one halfe thereof be consumed then put into it halfe a Two-Peny-dish of sweete Butter, and let it be cleane skommed, before such time as the Butter bee put into it, and also seethe, therein a verye good Quantitye of Elisaunder

Bladder .

feedes, Parflic feedes, and Gromell feedes, being all very well beaten into a fine powder, and then strains this through a fine limnen cloth, and let all these thinges aforesaide, be of equall portions, and let the Patient vse to drinke often there of, and especially sirst and last, and this will helpe him without all doubt.

Cap. 113.

An otherforthesame,

three or fower times knowned, then put into it Rose-marie, Time and Peny-roy al, of eth of them one hands full, and let them boyle altogether, butill such time as one quarter thereof be consumed, or somewhat more, then take it and straine the hearbes from the Ale, and let the Patient drinke a good draught of the Ale, luke warme, every Porning and Evening, and this will ease him very much,

This is also good against the Stone, and it hath been very well proued.

Cap. 114.

A very good Medicine to cause one to pisse that cannot.

Agua-vicz, of ech of them equall pozcious, a frye them all together, and make thereof a Plaisfer, and applye it to the patient, from the Nauill, to the Fundament, as hote as ever he may possiblic fasses it: But let not the Patient be afraire, although it cause bloud to issue foozth, for such is the nature of the Pedicine, Also it causeth the Stone speading to anoide. Probatumest.

Cap. 115.

An other Medicine to prouoke Vrine very speadely:

and leaues, walh them very cleane, and then put them cody einto an Ouen, in a Sine, or else some other like thinge, and let it be in an Onen where knowne breade hath beene newly drawne footh of it, then take the leaues and rootes aforesayde, out of the Ouen, and beate them into pouser, and let the Patient vse halfe a sponefull of the same your der eyther in White Wine, Posset drinke, Pottage, or else in to your ordinarie drinke.

Cap. 116.

A Medicine to heale a Canker vpom the Yarde.

of Verdygrease, and mingle it with Smithes water, and put them all together, into some vessell of glasse, and boyle it, for the space of two houres together, then straine it, and vieit as you see occasion.

Cap. 117.

A very good Medicine for the swellinge of the Yarde or Coddes.

Take the Water of Egrimony distilled, a put thereto a good quantitie of Roch Allum, and set them over h sire to soke, butill they are ready to boyle, then take a fine linnen cloth, and annoint the Parde buder the skinne, with the same Water, and let it be warme when you doe vie it, and it will abate the extreame paine of the Parde, & also of the Covdes, if they be walhed with the fame.

Bladder.

Also to incarnate the skinne, of the Parde within, take y water of Fumitoric, Flay a quantitie of Licquorice, which is pared, to steepe therein, for the space of one Right, & then put of the same water, into the Parde with a spunge, or else with a Tente, made of Linnen cloth.

Cap. 118.

An Excellent good remedie for the burning & intollerable heate of Vrine.

the seedes of Endine, the seedes of Mite poppie, of ech of them two ounces, then take the merghte of halfe a vanume of Hendane seedes, and two ounces of Saffron, sue vammes of Licquorice, r. drammes of Pine-Apple Kernells, two ounces of Sebastian, the quantitie of six poundes of faire springinge Water, Dingle all these very well together, and boyle them until such time, as the full thyrde parte thereof, bee consumed, then take it and straine it, and let the Partie greened, take enery Porninge one ounce thereof, & mingle it with one ounce of of the inice of Violets, and let him whe it for the space of three daies together, and the some other pay you shall see marueisous straunge varieties in y Vrine, This hath beene very well proved.

Cap. 119.

A Bernard Britage Committee of the Commi

A Maruelous good Water for to breake the Stone in the Bladder.

Grommell and of the inyce of Saxifrage, of them one Pinte, and of the best Uineger that is made of a pleasant wine, the quantitie of 8 or 9 ounces, distill all these together, and put the distilled water into some glasse which hath a narrowe mouth, and let the Patient take an ounce of it in the Porning, an other at Moone, and as much when he goeth to bed, and this will belye him. This hath been truely produed.

Cap. 120.

A marueilous good drinke to clense the Bladder which must bee drunke after the stone is disperced, and to cause it to be done away by Shieuers.

ahandfull, seeth them in a quart of raine water, and let it seeth untill the one halfe thereof be consumed, then put into it as much Suger as will make it sweete, and let the partie greened vse to drink often of it, untill hee doe perceive his water to be cleare, and unless his water be thick, let him not drinke thereof.

Bladder .

A good Medicine to helpe the swellinge of the Yard

I AKE Ware and Oyle, and the inice of Purhane, and mingle them all together, and soe lay it to the Harde, that is swollen, and this will belye it.

ANY thinges more, might have beene heare spoken of, as concerning all such diseales as come of the Bladder, as the Sone and such like ac. but as concerning y know it selfe, Looke in the Ticle of Collick and Stone, and therein you shall since thinges aunswearable to expectation, Therefore I will now omitt to speake any moze at this time of the Bladder, hopeing that there is none that doe take uppon them the practife either of Phisicke or Ceirurgery, but are of themselves sufficient is nough to indge thereof, and to minister apt Wedicines for it, A for those that are buskillfull in the Sciences aforesaive, I woulde wishe them to have a greate care & respect, to p Devicines that they do minister for vivers diseases comming of the Bladder, & they not knowing the causes thereof, wherein of they be not skillfull, they doe very much hurte, Therefore I would will them first to learne of those which are skilfuil, before they attempt any such thinge themselves, & to knowe perfectly the principall cause of the disease, whereby they may more easily of themselves afterwardes, Minister Mevicines accordingly, Fasthey have occasion, Fnot any way vreindice or hurte the Partie greened any thing at all, but nurchale to them selves everlatting fame

Electling, & Bloud-staunching, Fol. 25.

Cap. 122.

A very good Medicine to staunch bloud.

AKE White wine Vineger, of the best that may be had, and the Water of Plantine, of ech of them the quantitie of two poundes, and mingle them together, then take divers synnen clothes, and wette them therein, and then lay some to the soles of the feete of the partie greened, and some against the Liner, and some to the Paime of his handes, and this will traunch the bloude frozthwith. For this hath been etruely proued.

Cap. 123.

An other Medicine to staunch the bleeding at the Nose, bout the Temples of the Heade very harde, and knit the knot thereof in the Acche, and this will presentely caunche the bleedinge.

R

Bleeding, & Bloud-staunching.

Cap. 124.

An Excellent remedie for to staunch the bleeding at the Nose, yr bleede neuer soe freshlie.

The ART an egge and breake it one the top, that all the white and yolke may iffue cleane foorth of it, then fill be egge-thel with the blood of the partie, that doth bleed, an oput it in the fire, a there let it remains untill it be harde then burne it to alhes, and it frauncheth the bleeding.

Cap. 125.

A finguler medicine for to staunch the bleeding at the nose,

It about the privie members of the patient & hee shall cease bleeding. Quod probatum estper Iohannem Linsell clericum Maiestri Anthonij Bronwne in Essex.

Cap. 125.

Another for the same.

ARE Centory, greene Rue, and red kennell, stampe all these together and straine them and drinke them warme, and this will stoppe any manner of wound cut, bruise, or otherwise hurt.

Cap. 127.

Bleeding, & Bloud-staunching. Fol. 26.

Another for the fame,

These a like quantitie, and bruise them in a morter, and marme them as hot as you can against the sire, and lay them to the nose of him that bleedeth, and hind some of the hearbes to the Temples of his head as bot as hee can suffer them.

Cap. 128.

Another for the same.

then burne it to pouver, then take the pouver thereof, and if it be a wound call it therein, and it will from the bleeding immediately, but if the nose vicede then snuffe the aforesaid pouver into the nose, and it will cease bleeding.

Cap. 127.

Another for the same.

TAKE Becony, and frampe it with a little last, the quantitie of both must be as much as thou cansitake by with the Twoodingers and put it into the nose, and it will presently staunch the bleeding.

Cap. 130.

Another approved medicine for the flaunching

K 2

Take

Bleeding, & Bloud-stannching.

AKE Linnen cloth and burnett, and take the pour derthereof, and put it into an other cloth, and see lay it too the Alounde, and this will staunth the bleedings of any Cut of Alounde. Also take an Hearby that is called by the name of Pimpernell, and holde it between your teeth, From shall not bleede whilest you doe holde it there.

Cap. 131.

A very good Medicine to staunch bloud, when noe thinge else will stoppe it, by reason that the vaines are cut, or that the wound is greate.

much as will lye in the Mound, and lay the biefe in the Embres of the fire, and let it be thorough hore, and whé it is hote, thrust it into the Mounde, and binde it fast, and it will foorth with staunch the bloud, & let it lye for a good space after in the Mounde, for the stopping of the bloud. This is a present remedy, and hath beene often proved.

. Cap. 132.

An other for the same.

AKE a Toade, and dry him in the Sumne very drye then put him into a linnen bagg, and hange him about your Pecke with altringe, soe lowe that it may touch your breaste, upon the leste side neare unto your Harte, and most commonly it stayeth all kinde of viceding at the mouth, Pose, or Mounde.

Cap .. 133.

1.6

An other Medicine to stoppe bloud.

If your Pole voe bleede bumealurablic, the eye your little finger very harde about the lower joynte, and for the most parte commonly, it fayleth not, but stayeth the same.

: un resel Capite 3 24.00 %

A very good Medicine to staunch the bleeding at the Nose.

Therwise called Bole armoniack, and a little red Oker, of therwise called Bole armoniack, and a little Dragons bloud, by an all these together very small, then take a little Flaxe, and wet it therein, and make it like a Fillet, to lay it upon the sozeheade of the Patient, from the one eare to the other, but be sure that it lye uppon the Temples, and this will presently staunch the bloud. This hath beene sufficiently Proued.

Cap. 135

A present remedy to staunch the bleeding of any Cut or Wounde.

and beate them into pouder, and put it into the wound, and it will cease bleedings presently. This is an aproued Medicine.

Сар. 136.

Bleeding, & Bloud-spitting.

A medicine for one that bleedethinwardly.

TAKE a good quantitie of the juice of Neepe, and let the partie grieved brink it, and it will cause him to cast up blood presently. This back been truely proved.

Cap. 139.

An excellent remedie for one that spitteth blood, much as will lye byon a groate) and put it into a Pint of the inice of Plantine, and put thereto a little Sugar, and let it be finely beaten to pouder, before you put it into p inice, and let the partic greened drinke of it morning & eneming, butill he perceive this infirmitie to be cleane gone.

Cap. 133.

T Another for the same,

AR E the inice of Becony, and temper it with Goates milke, and give the same to the patient to exinke, and let him wse it for the space of three vaies together, and this will boubtles help him.

Cap. 141.

Another for the same

them a like quantitie, and secth them together in newe Milke, and let the partie greened suppe it of as hot as he is able to suffer it, and this helpeth. Probatumest.

Byting of Venemous Beastes. Fol. 120.

Cap. 142.

A Medicine for the byting of any Venemous beast.

AKE Plantine, and dzinke the inice thereof, and like wife take Selandine and Plantine, of ethof them a like quantitite, Stampe them very well together, Etemper them with Itale Pisse, and lay the same to the place greened, and yt will presently both assume the Swellinge, and drawe out the Clenome thereof, and yf yt be neuer soe much For this hath beene often tymes proued,

Cap. 143.

A Medicine for the biting of a madde Dogge.

TARE Nyght-shade, Betony and Wilde Sage, of ech of them one handefull, and a pinte of faire running Water, then stampe the hearbes, and straine them with the sayd Water, and put thereto a Penymorth of Triackle, and give it to the Patient to drinke, sor the space of two or three morninges fasting, one after another And yt helpeth, Probatum est.

K 4

Cap. 144.

Cap. 144.

A Rule to knowe what thinges are good and holosome for the Braine.

Cap. 145.

These Thinges are ill for the Braine.

Cap. 146.

of one that hath a stinking breath.

Ak E the seedes of Coriander, and hopse yt in white Rumney of Sacke, and let the Partie grieved drinke three spoonefulls thereof in the Pointinge, and as much in the Eucuinge, but note that, y which he taketh in y morningmust be cold, a the other hotte, but he must be to take noe excelle of meates, nor brinkes, nor let him not vie to litte by late at night, but rise by carlie in the morninge, and it will him Probatum off,

Cap. 147.

I An other approved Medicine for a stinking Breath.

and flowers, and boyle them in white Wine, and with a little Cinamon and Benieamin beaten to powder, quit therein, and let the Patient vis to walk his month very often therewith, and this will presently helpe him. Probation est per M. Gatticars,

Cap. 148.

An other for the fame.

Breath

Der, and seeth it in a pottle of white Wine, and let yt seeth untill such time, as the one halfe of it be cosumen away, then take it and straine it, and let the Patient drinke thereof, twice enery day at the least, for the space of sire of seanen dayes, together, and let him vie to drinke a quarter of a Pint thereof at a time, and this will-helpe him without all doubt For yt hath beene often proved. I. B.

Cap.

Cap. 149.

A medicine for the Tificke, and stopping in the Breast, and to open the Pipes.

AKE Parfly-rootes, Feanell-rootes, and Succory rootes, and take all the Pithes out of them, and feeth them in White Wine, til they be lofte, and yf you cau get any Ginger Berries, seeth them therein, with the rest, then straine it, when you see that it is well soden, then put thereto a litle Pellitorie of Spaine, to the Wine, and let the Patient drinke of yt both Morninge and Eucuinge, for the pace of eighte or nine dayes, and yt will help him, by Gods grace, For yt hath holyë many that couls fearce fetch theire breath at all.

Cap. 150.

A good Medicine for the stopping in the breffe.

TARE Rue, and seeth ye in Exsell, and so let the Patient drinke yes Let him also drinke Nettle-seede brayed, and ye will cause him, to anoide great store of Granell from the stone, in the Raine of the backe,

Cap. 151.

An excellent Medicine for all maner of diseases in the breste, & against all Impostumes, Coughes, and Plurisies, very well bried, then take Anonie-feed & Fernell-feed, of ech of them one ounce, then take an ounce of Licquorice, and pare it cleane, and cut it very smale, and twelve Figges, and halfe an ounce of Erins, then take all theefe, and put them all together, eyther in a quarte of faire runninge Water, or else a quarte of pure White Wine to soke, for the space of one Right, then let them boyle untill such time, as the one halfe or somewhat more be consumed, then straine yt thorough a fine linnen cloth, and when yt is strayned, put into it, a little sine Suger, to make it sweete, and let the Patient ble to drinke this both Dorninge and Eurninge, for the space of enghte or nine dayes together, and by gods grace, this will helpe him in a short time, If or this bath beene sufficiently eproved.

Cap.

Cap. 152.

A very good Medicine for to increase Milke in a Woemans breastes.

AKE Fennell Rootes, and Parsneepe Rootes, and let them be boyled in Broth, which must be made of Chickins, & then let the Patient eate the same rootes mixed with fresh Butter, which must bee as new made, as possibile it may be gotten, and this will cause greate stoze of Wilke to increase in any Thomans breastes, This hath beene often proved.

Cap. 153.

An other for the same,

I ak E Rice and seeth it in Cowe Milke, and crume some Wheate bread therein (it must be such as is cleane without Rie) and put into the said Mylke, some Fenell seede beate to fine pouder, and a litle Sugerto make it sweet, and this is knowne to be exceading good.

Cap. 154.

An other for the same,

Woemens Breastes.

groweth uppon the Grounde, betweene Wheate, which groweth uppon the Grounde, betweene Wichaelmas & Easter, you must take both of the Blades and Rootes, and stampe it very well and straine it through a sine Linner cloath, into some Posset Ale, and put therein a little sine Suger, to sweeten yt withall, and this will increase great store of Wiske in a Momans breastes, within the space of three or some dayes, by usinge of yt, This hath beene proued.

Cap. 155.

Another for the same.

and Mingle yt with as much Fennell seed, inkewise beaten into fine pouder, and a small quantitie of Suger, and let the Patient vse oftentimes, to drinke it warme, with a little White Wine, and this restoreth her Mike againe, yf it be gone cleane away from her, Forthis hath beene sufficiently e proued.

Cap. 156,

An excellent good Medicine, for a Woman that hath a fore or swellinge brefte.

of yt, and then annoint the lease yt selfe, with May Butter, boyled with Rose-water, and then lap yt to the womans brette that is sore, and yt will assuage the swellinge and paine thereof, in a short tyme, This hath beene oftentimes proued and founde to bee good.

Cap. 157.

An other approued Medicine so breake the fore of a womans brest.

In a Pozter, butill such time as all the Rernells he all broken, then take them and temper them very well with a litle Swines Grease that is fresh, and make a Plaister thereof, and lay yt to the Womans brest that is soze, as here as ever shee can possiblie abide yt, and yt will take away the swellinge, and also the paine thereof, and yf yt be readie to breake, yt will helpe yt sozwardes soorthwith to breake, or else not, This is an approved Medicine,

Cap. 153.

A Medicine for the swelling of a Womans breast, after the wayning of a Childe.

Jake Red Sage, Camamill, and whitewine Vingger, and applye yt often to the Momans brest that is sore and yt helpeth her, Probatum est,

L 4

Cap

Cap. 158.

An approued Medicine for an old Sore or Brule.

AKE Selandine, red Sage, and Sorell, of every one of them a good handefull, two handefulls of Woodbinde leaves, halfe a handefull of Rue, otherwise called Hearbe grace, and a good handefull of the Topps of Rosemarie, boyle all these together, in a Pinte of good white Wine, and a Pinte and an halfe of faire running Water, and let them bople, butiliyou perceive that they looke yeallow, and before such time as they are altogether sodden, and put as much Honnic into it, as you doe thinke will sweeten it, and then put into it, halfe a quarter of a pounde of Roch Allum, and when the Allum is molten, then take yt from the fire, and straine it through a Coulender, or else thorough some course sinnen cloth, and put yt into a Gallypot or Glasse, and stoppe it very close, and let y Watient vse this to the soze, and it will helpe him, probatum est per D.S.

Cap. 159,

An Excellent good Medicine for a bruse, and frye them altogether in sheepes Suet, & then take tently become an Oyle, then put thereto a quantitie of Spermaceci, and mire them very well eagether, and ann oynte y place grieved aften therewith, Probacum est, per M. Cox.

Cap. 160.

A good Medicine for any maner of bruse in the Armes, Legges, or eise where.

of theepe, which is new killed (if it may be had) that thereto some Lees of Wine, and Wheaten branne, then take Water-cresses, and wall them very cleane, and boyle them in faire runninge Water, and let them boyle butilistich tyme as they be softe, then put them into a Popuer, and beate them, and then put them into a cleane Panne, then mire all these thinges together, and strethem, and make a Plaister thereof, and lay it warme to the Sozeplace, and soe vse tisis, of sue Plaisters, of more as neede thall require, probatices,

Cap. 161.

An approued Medicine for any Bruse or other sore, which is vnriped.

Thicke, and then put it into a Panne, and mixe it with a good quantitie of the epes Tallowe, and then workethem begins then we repested, and there continually, and then make a Plaister thereof, and lay it to the loze, as hotte as it may bee luftered. This hath been proued,

M

Cap. 162.

A Medicine for a brule or straine.

of Archer Aleoz Beere, and mingle them very well together, and lap yt to the place greened, three or fower tymes a day, yt being lyread bypon a red Cloath, but not occurring, and this will helpe yt, Probatum est.

Cap. 163.

A Medicine for a bruse.

Dery well with Leavened bread, and then put into yt, a a good quantitie of Deeres Suet, and a good quantitie of Otemeale, Eseeth yt butill such time as it be very thicke, then take a linnen Cloath, and double yt, and spread yt there on very thicke, and say yt to the sore, But you must chaunge the Plaisters two or three times in a day, Use this sorthe space of three dayes together, and yt will helpe you.

Cap. 164.

A Most singuler good Oyle made of Camamill, which is good for all maner of bruses, Splenes, and Swellinges.

I moze, and bruse a good grantitie of Camamill, and put therein, then put printo a Glasse, and set it to transe in some place in the Sunne, where ye may hande sate, serthe space space of tenne of twelve vayes together, and when it hath stode there soft the space of sive vaies then straine your Oile through a sine linner cloath, and soe set ye againe in y sunne, and at the end of the aforsay tenne of twelve vayes, then you must straine ye againe, and then set ye in the Sunne to stand in the Sunne for soe longe time as you shall thinke ye to bee purified very cleane, and soe straine ye the thirde tyme, and when you perceive that ye is cleane purified from the drugs, then put ye into a cleane Glasse, stoppe ye close, but ill such tyme as you have occasion to vieye, and when you will vie ye annoince the place greeved, swill help you. This Oyle yf you will keepe ye close shopped, it will continue good for the space of two yeares and more, For ye hath beene often times sufficiently proved.

Cap. 169.

An excellent good Medicine for to be drunke of one that is burst in the Belly, or Coddes.

podium, otherwise cased Oke-scarne, a handfull of Polypodium, otherwise cased Oke-scarne, a handfull of Spatrakinge, otherwise cassed Knotwort, a Potse of white Wyne, a knuckse of Veale, halfe a pounde of Resons of the Sunne, halfe an ounce of Mace, and halfe so many Dates, of then take all these and put them into an earthen Potte, then take a kette of sine or sire gallons, and fill yt with Chater, and set yt over the sire, then take the sayo Potte and stoppe yt very close, with a little Passe, and then put yt into the aforesayde kettle of saire Chater, and soe let the same with the earthen Pot therein, and keep the Rettle Aill seethinge with other seething water, then take out the saide earthen Pot, and take south thereof, all other thinges, & beate them in a Worter, and Araine it, and give the Patient of y same Licquor to brinke both first and last, and in see doinge hee thall bee by gods helpe cured.
M 2

Chater

Cap. 166.

Another for the same.

Akt the Gall of an Oxe and Oynions, and fry them with a quantitie of theepes Suet, and with a fine linnen cloth, put it to the loze, and this will presently help you, For it hath beene well proued.

Cap. 167.

A very good Plaister for a bruse.

ARE Wormewood and Cummin, of echof them a like quantitie, and put thereunto, a litle rose Vineger, then lay it to the bruse, like a Playster, before that the skynne be any thinge at all broken,

Cap. 168.

A Medicine for a bruse or cut.

TARE rootes of Louage, Ale-hofe, Parslie, & Annifsecdes, and beate them in a Worter very fine, then take Barrowes grease, and boyle them together, then straine footh the inice thereof, then take as much unwrought Wax, as a Malinute, and halfe as much Rohne; & let them boyle together, and when you have for done, then traine it through a fine linnen cloth ivto a litle Panne of water, and then let it stands untill it be colde, then take it in your handes and labour it, untill it be somewhat shorte, and then wrappe it in a peece of Leather, and soe vie it as you shall have accasion.

Cap. 169.

An Excellent good Drinke to heale all maner of bruses.

TAKE Egremony, Betony, Plantine, Sage, Roses, Inie leanes, and Parshie, of ech of them a like quantitie, and stampe them all together, and mingte them with a quarte of good White wine, and let the Patient vse oftentimes to drink thereof, untill such time as he be whole, which will bee by goos grace in a shorte space, Probatum est.

Cap. 170.

A very good Medicine to skinne any old Sore or bruse.

TAR E Rev bramble Buddes, Selfe-heale, & Sinck-foile, of ech of them a good handfull, & a little water-be-tony, and boyle them all very well together, with Barrowes greafe, then let the Patient apply to the foze as hote as possiblie it may be suffred, and this will help him without all doubt, Probatum est.

Cap. 171.

Burning & Scaulding

An approved Medicine, for any burning with fire, or Scaulding with Warer.

Hemlockes, and beate them both together, then take a quarter of a pounde of Bozes Greafe, and feeth both the Pearbes and yt together, butill such time as they come to an Dyntement, and then Craine, them into a Boze, selet y Patient annointe the place greened, therewith twice enery daye butill such time as he bee hole, which will be in a most tyme by gods helpe, Probacum ch.

Cap. 172.

An other for the same,

nerethe ground, and the leaves of Marigolds, of Woodbinde leaves, and Plantine, of everyone of them a like quantitie, and choppe them very linall, and bople them in Bozes Greuse, or else Hogges Grease, a then straine them into some earthen vessell, or else a Gallypot, a let the Patient annoint the place where the griefe is often therewith, and ythelpeth, This hath beene well proued.

Cap. 173.

Another for the same.

ARE a brake roote, and Kamps yt very well in a Mooden Dish, of in a Poster, and then strains out the inice thereof cleans, and let the Patient abnointe the place that is burned often therewith, tit will beir him For

For this hath beene sufficiently proved,

Capi. 174.

A very good Oyntement for any maner of Burning of Gunnpoweder, or Scauldinge with Water.

Take two exthree handfulls of Houseek, a handfull of Barocs Grease, and two handfulls of Groundsell, sampe all these together, somethereto, two handfulls of Sheepes Dounge, that is new fallen, samuch Goose Dounge, and trampe them altogether as assectaive, sthen boyle them all very well together, and traine them through a fine Linnen Cloath, into an earthen Pot, and with the Liquoz that commeth thereof, annoint the place that ys burned and yt will help yt soozthwith.

Cap. 1-5.

An other very good Oyntemente for any maner of burning with fire, or otherwife Whatloeuer.

Greene goose Donnge, and the Greene Barke of an Elder Tree, of eth of them a like quantitie, and a quattitie, of Oyle Olysse, stampe them all very well togesther, and straine them thorough a fine Linnen Cloath, and with a seather let the Partie greened annointe him selse therewith, as often as her shall thinke good, and this will belye him without all doubt, Probatum est.

Cap. 176.

Burning & Scalding.

A very good Medicine for any maner of Burning with Fire, or Scalding with water.

ake a Brakeroote, and stampe it in a Dishe, and then straine out the inice, and put into it, a good quantitie of Creame, and let the Partie greened, annointe the place which is burned or scaulded therewith, and this will both fetch out the heate, and assume the paine: For yt hath beene truely proued.

Cap. 177.

A very good remedie for any burning or scaldwith a Handegunne, or otherwise.

is of one Rightes making, & a good quantitie of Butter bulalted, or else Clarified Sheepes Suet, and fry them in a frying Panne for y space of a quarter of an houre, or buttill your Butter or Suct, be almost consumed, then put them into a course linnen Cloath which is cleane, & straine them into a Gally-pot, or els some small earthen bestell: then take a feather, and dip it in the same Liquor, & annoint the place therewith, which is burned or scaulord, and when you have soe done, then take a sine Linnen cloath, and wet it well in y same Liquor, and lay it uppon the sore place to cover it withall, & soe doe this twise or thrise every day untill it be whose, and this by Gods grace, will speadely help you, probatic est.

Cap. 178.

Another for the same.

TAKE agood quantitie of Mayden-woort, & stamp it,

Burning & Scaulding. Fol. 37.

and leeth yt in fresh Butter, and straine ye, and let the Hatient anount the place greeved often therewith, and yt will speadely helpe him. Probatum est,

Cap. 179.

TA Medicine to take away a heate or burning with Gun-pouder.

AKE a good quantities of Houseke, and stampe pt, and wring out the juice cleane, then take the whites of sine or sire New laide Egges, and beate them in a Dyshe, untill such time as they be Thinne, and then take of the skumme of yt, and put the rest together, and wash the soze place with a Linnen cloath, and say the cloath alost up on the soze wette.

Cap. 180.

An other Medicine for Burning or Scaulding.

AKE Blacke Sope, or Gray Sope, and lay it youngs biatly to the place which is burned or scaulded, and yt will speadely beloe yt. For yt hath beene truely proued.

Cap. 181.

The Another for the same.

Dunge, and soe fry them in May-Butter, and Araine it, and let the Patient annoint the place greened, with a little of the same Austernation cold, twise of theise a vay, and let y the annoint ed arth, epther with Gray of blacke Sope, & yt will help pt, But the Opntement must be spread by pon a sine slaven Cloath, yf that yt may be gotten, probatúest.

N. Cap.

· Burning & Scaulding.

er loil

and forces of the first of the constant of the

A Medicine for burning or skalding in what place to euer it be.

ter with, and then labor it with an Allome Rone, untill it be like a Posset curve: then take a sine peece of Linney cloth, and wer it in Oyle Olisse, or in some other Oyle: then lay the sayou cloath uppon the source, and about it lay the asoresayd curve made of the white of an Egge, and that shall both drawe out the sire, and heale the source.

Cap. 183.

Another Medicine for the same,

the polkes of them, and friethem in a pan loftly by on the Embers, till they be blacke, and thereof will come an Oyle, the which you must laue, and put it into a Gallie pot, and so vie it when they have neede thereof.

Cap. 184 HonA P

A good Medicine for a burning, for lacke Dunger, and for lacke Dunger, and for some of other thinges, and the same of other thinges.

TARC the berries of the Fider-tree, and lay them bute the soare, and they will presently helpeyous

Cap. 189.

Another Medicine for the same,

TAKE Oyle Olife, and beate it with faire water, in I would deware very white, and then annoynt the place greened, and it specuely helpsth.

Palindorg suiz Section and any suit in the

An other approved Me dicine, for any burning or scalding.

an have them, and lay them in the fire, and roll them as hard as you can take the polkes, and choppe them as linall as you can, and put them into an earthen pot, and fet it over the fire, and firre it with a flicke, and let it boyle butill you fee it confumed in a maner to nothing: Then take it from the fire and let it in the appe a quarter of an houre, or more, and there will tome an Dyle thereof, then take a feather and annoynt the griefe with the same Dyle, and take Hanstong leaves, and lay bypon the griefe, and that will gather the skinne, then you may hinde a cloth thereto.

TAnother for the same,

hard; then take foozth the polks, and bzuile it with fresh Butter that is cleane without any fait, and an noynt the place greened therewith, and by Gods helpe it will be whole.

No 2

Burning & Scaulding.

Cap. 188.

An other for the same,

Take a pounde of Waxe, a pounde of Rohoe, and halfe a pounde of May-butter, and hople all these very well together, and fittre yt continually as yt doth seeth, and then setyt coole againe, and when you will vie yt, make yt Plaister-wise, and this will helpe you. probatúelt.

Cap. 139.

A very good Medicine for any burninge with fire.

ARE Blacke Vernich, and with a Feather, anoint the place well which is burned, and ye will allwage heate thereof, and ye will heate ye as faire as ever did any other Dedicine, and soe vse ye continually, untill such time as you beeperfect whole. This hath beene truely and sufficiently proucd.

the same transfer of the contract of the contr

An approued Medicine for any maner of burning or Scauldinge, be ye with fire, Oyle, or with Gunpowder and reduced a produced and reduced a

Ak E Salchislowed in Water, or else Brine, which the strength of yt selfe, both take away the paine, and y heate of any burning, and especially yf yt bee bathed with linnen clothes wette, or dipped in the same, and afterwards applyed to the place which ys burned or scanings, and this will presentlic hespeyt. Probatum est, mogod soutet de al sua sia de usatuana a la modo.

Cap.

Cap. 191

An excellent remedy for a Canker,

Rolemary toppes, Mayden-heare, of each of them a good handfull, and a little Nope, boyle all these well together in a quart of white Winc, and put thereto as much as two Walnuts of Roch Alum, and as much Hony as will make it sweete, then take it and straine it through a fine cloth, and let the patient wash his mouth often therewith.

Cap. 192.

An other for the same,

and Coleworts, of each of them as much as you shall thinke good, and boyle them altogether and make a playster thereof, and apply it to the soze place, and this helpeth.

Cap. 193.

A very good water to kill the Canker and Scutse in the mouth.

Rosemary stripped, Hisope, and Woodbinde leaves, of every of them halfe a hardfull, voyle them in the white Cline, untill the one halfe be consumed, then straine them, and wring footh the surce; then put thereto halfe an ounce of Allom, a quarter of an ounce of white Coporas, and two or three spoonesuls of Honny, and then set it to the sire againe, and let it seeth but a little: then take it and straine it againe, and put it into a Chiall, and when the partye greeved, will vie it, see him wash the Canker with this water, beeing suke warme, three times a day at the least, eyther with a linnen cloth byon his singer, or else upon a stickes end if he cannot toine to it with his singer. This hath holpen many.

After the patient hath washed his mouth, let him take Sandeferd beaten very small, and (the patients mouth being opened) eyther with a Reede or a quill, blowe a little of the powder vppon the sore. This water will in a short tyme heale anye olde sore, beeyng washed therewith, and a fine linnen cloth dipped in it, and layde vppon the fore.

Ful. 3

... Caparyton A

both white and red: the white Canker will breake out, but the red will not: Also this Medicine is very good for any fore lips, fore legges, or any other

Take two handfulls of Moodbinde leaues, and a handfull of Sage, thread them fine, and beate them very small in a Porter: Then take two spoonefulls of Honny, and Roch Allum to the quantitie ofhalfe an Egge : then take a quarte of faire running water, and feeth these alltogether, untill they be thickel then straphe it through a fine linnen cloth, and put the licquor into a faire earthen potte, and couer it very close: then annount the gummes of the patient therewith, within his mouth, on the soze spoe, or else if necde require, you may annoynt your whole mouth therewith: And if it bee a white Canker, then annoynt the otter side of your mouth, and then wet a cloth in the liquoz, and lay it thereunto, on the out live of the fore, and vie this three or four times in a day, and when you are dressed, then lay your face to a warme chafing dish of coles, and then you shall see the water runne fooith of your mouth in great quantities. And if the Canker bee in the note, of in any other place where it cannot bee touched, then spout some of thys liquoz with a quill, and this will heale you within a Mort space. This liquor will be kept well one and twentie dayes, in his vertue and nomoze. This hath bene often produed. An ether Medicine to drie vo the Ca '. ..

Cip. 19,

An excellent Remedie for a Canker in the mouth or throate, or elfe to walk your

TAKE a quantitie of red Sage, and childre crops of Rolemary, and a quantitye of Hony-Suchles, and wilde Dapkes, and Sinkefoyle: Boyle them all together in a pince of verye faire running water, butill it bee halfe confirmed: Then take a little Roch-Allum, and burne it to powder, and halfe a spocnefull of Cankers.

Polyaci

of Hony, and put therein: then take and Araine it through fine linnen cloth, and when it is cold, put it into glasses, and let the patient wall his mouth therewith, as often as hee shall thinke good.

Cap. 195.

A very good Medicine for a Cankar in the mouth.

TAKE white wine Ainegar, and honny, of each of them a like quantity, and boyle them altogether with a little Roch-Allum, and let the patient walh his mouth therewith as often as neede shall require, and this cureth the Canckar.

Also the inice of Plantine, Uinegar, and Rose water, is very good for the Canker, or a fluking breath.

cap. 196.

An other Medicine to drie vp the Canker and to stay it.

Take the impressed Alloodbine, and the inice of Darygolds, and a quantitie of Honny, and a quantitie of powder of Cannell, and as much powder of Copozas, and the powder of wilde Sage (burnt and mingled all together) then iay them on the place where the Canher is, and it will drie it by. But to flea the Cankers, take a red Onion and lay it thereon, and it will both flea it and cure it.

Cap. 197.

A very good Medicine for a Canker, or calcale of the Gummes or throate.

TABE

a handfull, an ounce of Daily leaves, halfe a handfull of Sage, and a quart of very faire running water, boyle all these together, untill the one halfe he consumed: then put therein sine spoonefulls of tharpe Ainegar, sine spoonefulls of those Honny, and as much Roch-Ailum as a Mallnut, this hath beene produced to sure the Canker.

Cap. 199.

A Medicine to cure any Canker in the mouth.

Then take a few leaves of Penyroyall, lay them to steepe in very faire Conduite water, or else in faire running water for the space of priisis, hourses, then take the same water and wash your mouth therewith as often as you shall thinke good.

Cap. 200.

An other for the same,

TAKE Ainegar, Rose-water and the fuice of Plantine, and wall thy mouth therewith many times, and it will helpethee.

Capato 201.

Medicine to cure a Canker in a womans pappes.

T AKE

Cankers.

Them very well together, and lay them to the fore pappe, and it will clenke the Canker, hea the worme, and heale the loze.

Cap. 202.

A very good water for to clense the mouth, and to fasten teeth.

them a handfull, a good spoonefull of pure english Honny, and a peece of Allume as bigge as a good Monny, and a peece of Allume as bigge as a good Mallunt, Boyle all these together in a quarte of saire running water, and let it boyle till the one halfe be consumed; then straine it through a sine linnen cloth, and let the Patient wash his mouth with this water luke warme, three or four times in a day, and this will clense his mouth of any corruption that shall abide therein, after any Canker or other disease.

Cap. 203.

An excellent good Medicine for binde, Daysies, Rosemary, Isop, Feathersew, Sage, Lauender-spike, and Hearb-grace, of each of these alike quantity, and two spoonesults of white wine Vineger, tampe and Araine all these together, then take wheaten Flower, and Honny, of each of them one spoonesult, then mingle the suice of the hearbes, and these things all toges ther.

ther, and let it be Airred about very well: then make a Plaister thereof, and lay it to the foze place colo, and by Gods grace it will helpe you very speedely.

Cap. 204.

A Medicine for a Canker in the mouth.

Roch Allum, Rosewater, and white wine Vineger, & mingle all these together, and let the Patient wash his mouth therewith, and this will helpe him in a sport space, sor it hath bene well produced.

Cap. 205.

A Medicine for a Canker, or a fore mouth,

Inckle leaves, a pretty quantyty of Rosemary, and as much Roch Allum, as halfe a good Malluut, and a spoonefull of Honny, bople all these together in a quarte of faire running water, and let them boyle a good while, then Araine it into a Glasse or Aiall, and let the Patient wash his mouth both morning and evening, as long as he shall finde himselfe greeved, and this will helpe him. Used much by Tho. Sefold,

Cap.

Childebyrth.

· 1 . C .

Cap. 206.

An excellent good Medicine for a woman labouring of Childbirth.

Take Mugwort, and seeth it very well in fairs water, and platter it as hote as it may be suffered, both to the Mauell and Thighes of the woman labouring of childe, and it doth prouoke speadie delinery of This virth, and afterburden, without any perill, but it must not be suffered to continue very long to any part of her body, so if it doe, it will cause the Patrix to follow.

Cap. 207.

Anotherfor the same,

Them one handfull, stampe them very small with olde Ale, and straine it, and wring foorth the inice there of, and let the woman that transileth, drinke a good draught of it, and it will helpe her presently without any daunger. This hath beene prooned.

Cap. 208.

A present remedy for a woman that traueleth with childe, to helpe her to a speady and good deliuerance.

亚贝斯亚

I and Campe it very well, then plaister it byon the feete of the woman that traveleth with childe, and it causeth speedy wirth of the childe, eyther alive of dead. This is a marvelous good secret.

Cap. 209.

A Medicine for the Crampe.

greace, of each of them a like quantity, and make an Opnement thereof, and let the party greeued annoynt the place very often where the griefe is with the same Opnement, and this will helpe him. Probatum often Per I. B.

Cap. 210.

A very good Medicine for a Chincough.

The a Mouse and stea it, and dye it to powder in an oven, and dyinke it in Ale. The same is also good for them that cannot hold their water. Probatum est. Per M. Ierueis.

Cap. 211.

Another for the same,

AR & Bores-greace, and warme the soales of the feete of the patient to the fire, and chase and rubbe them with the asozesaid greace, and when you thinke that that you have rubbed and chafed them ynough, then let him goe to bed, and there be kept very warme, and lay clothes prough to his feete.

Cough .

This may be ofed to little Chilozen, and it will helpe them.

Cap. 212.

An approued Medicine for a Cough,

Ak E three Figges and rolle them, and put them in a cup of Beere, and put therein a little Licquorice, and Annise-seedes beaten to powder, and let it to kand by the fire till it be warme, then take out the Figges and eate them, then when you goe to bed drinke by the drinke also, and cover your selfe very warme, and in so doing for the space of source nights together, it will breake the Cough. This hath bene proved.

Cap. 213.

A very good Medicine to take away a cough, or stitch.

Is a quarte of Malmelye, Anile-seeds, and buset Isope, of each of them a handfull, a Licquorice-slicke of two, byused, and halfe-a two-peny dish of Butter, seeth all these together till they be thicke, and then take it and spread it upon a toste of Wheaven-bread, and lay them within a sine sinnen cloth, and set it to your stomacke as hot as you may suffer it, but if you will be this sor a stirch, the Butter must be left out.

the site Capra 244; who she did not most

A very good Medicine for a cough, and to cause one to auoide slegme from the stomacke.

TAKE a quart of state Ale, and a handfull of Goosemeate, which is commonly called Hayrese, and a good quantity of Liquorice pared, and a quantity of small Reisons, and boyle them altrogether, untill the one halfe be consumed, and let the patient drinke thereof sirst and last.

Cap. 215.

An excellent good drinke to breake the cough.

soke in very faire running water, and so let it to soke in very faire running water, and so let it stand for the space of a day and a night therein, then let the patient drinke a good draught thereof when he goeth to bed, as hote as he can drinke it, then let there be a hote Boord, or a Logget of wood layd as hote as it may be suffered, to the soles of his feete when he goeth to bed, and proudke him to sweate if you can, and so in the morning do the like againe, and within three dayes he shall be whole. Probatum est,

Cap. 216.

A Medicine for the Cough, and for the straightnes of the pipes.

wery well together, and hope, and stampe them then bery well together, and hope them with Honny, then let the patient vse to drinke it fasting, this is good, and hath bene very well approued to be true.

Cap. 217.

An excellent good and approved Medicine against an extreame Cough.

D 4

面具数仓 feedes, of each of them a like quantity, and a little Licquorice, and feeth them altogether in white Wine, then take and Fraine it, and put it into some earthen of close pot, and drinke a good draught thereof when you goe to bed, and the next morning, take a Figge, and a Date, and roll them, and eate them as hote as you may, and when you have so done, neyther eate nor drinke for the space of two of three houres after, and thus in three of source dayes you shall be whose.

Cap. 218.

Another Medicine for the same.

a like quantity, then take Water and Sugar, and boyle them alltogether, till it become a syzop, and so vie to eate this morning and evening, and at all other times when you shall thinke meete and convenient, and this will breake the Cough, for it hath bene proved.

Cap. 219.

and put on as much sweete Sallet Oyle, on both sides thereof, as the bread will receive, and eate it, ble this morning and evening, and it will bely you.

Cap. 220.

Another Medicine for the same.

of the sunne, Figges cut in small peeces, and Annise seedes, Isope, Licquorice, and Hore-hounde, of each of them a like quantity, Boyle all these very well together in faire running Water, then strains it, and drinks it energy morning fasting for the space of three or foure dayes, and it will helpe you.

Cap. 221.

Another Medicine for the same,

The Barrowes greace, of Bores greace, and foure of fine Clones of Garlicke, and stampe them all together: then when the Patient is going to bed, let him warme his feete to the fire, and anount them with the aforetayd dynament, then when he is in his bed, let him have a trencher made hote, and put to the soales of his feete, as hote as he may abide it, and warme clothes, and this will helpe him. Probatum est.

Cap. 222.

A very good Medicine for the Cough, and to breake the fleagme.

Isope water distilled, and sine or sire good races of case Ginger, pare off the rinde from them very cleane, and slice them, then take twice as much Licquorice as you have Ginger, and pare it likewise, then take two good handfulls of Sugar-Candic, grose brused, and mire and these together, and put them into a Glasse, and shake it often, and stop it very close, and let it stand for the space of rrisis.

Phonics,

Cough.

chinks good. Research listed of the control of the

Cap. 223.

Another Medicine for the Cough, and to drye vp the Reume, and fleagme.

full of Bay salt depend at the sire, a handfull of Cummin, and a handfull of Sage. Beate all these very well, and mingle them together, then take and put them into a linnen Bagge, made for that purpose, of the length and breadth of a mans hand, and let it be quilted, and put it to the mould of the head of the Patient, till he sinde ease of his griese, and so every morning and evening warme it, and lay it to your mould againe. This hath been producd, fine powder, and an ounce of Elicompane rootes dried and beaten into powder, then take a pound of Sugar-Candie, somewhat finely beaten, halfe a pound of Licquorice, and halfe a pound of Annife-teeds, let them be both search, Then take these and mingle them all together, and when you have so done, put the powder into a Bore, or Bladder, and when you goe to bed, eate a spoonefult except, and as much in the morning fasting, and thys well helpe you in a shorte space, by Gods helpe.

Cap. 1224 . 111 31

A very good Medicine for the Cough, and wheeling of the pipes or nose.

Cap.

Cap. 225.

An excellent Medicine for the Cough, and for the stopping at the brest, and also to open the pipes, and to avoide great store of corruption.

and thread them very small, and of Pearc-wardens twice so much as of both the others, then put them all together into a new earthen pot, and put to them clarified Honny, till it do our flow the said ingredience, then couer the pot, and paste it so close, that no breath may come south thereof, and set it into an Duen, and set it bake with a batch of Bread, and give to the Patient a spoonefull every Porning sasting, and likewise in the Eucning, and it will helpe him.

Cap. 226.

A good Powder for a Cough.

finall, and eighterne penywaight of Powder made of Elecompana rootes, and an ounce of Licquorice beaten to powder, and two vunces of the powder of Annie-feedes, and three ounces of Suger-Candie, mingle all these together, and put it into a wooden Bore, then take it, and eate it at your pleasure, at all times of the day, and heereby you shall sinde great ease, sor this hath been often plooned.

Cap. 227.

A perfect good Syrope for a Cough,

Cough of the Lungs.

a pinte of Rose-water, a spoonefull or more of Annise-seedes, a pinte or more of Isope-water, and a good quantity of Licquorice cleane pared and brused: Boyle all these together, until you see it come to a syrop, then straine it through a fine sinnen cloth, and put it into a Glasse, and take it at all times when you shall thinke most mecre, and convenient for you.

Cap. 228.

A soueraigne Medicine for the cough of the Lungs.

Les and a penymorth of Maydenheare, halfe a spoonefull or more of Annise seedes brused small, tenne or twelve Figges, halfe a pound or somewhat more of Portugall Suger, three pintes of very faire running Water, Boyle all these together, butill the one halfe be consumed away, then straine it through a fine cloth, and every morning drinke two spoonefulls thereof luke-warme, and you shall presently finde remedie thereby. Probatum est, Per M. Baker, and warms and some an

Cap. 229.

Another for the same,

TARE halfe a pound of the best Sugar that can be gotten, and a good quantity of Annise seedes, and Licquorice, two handfulls of great Reysons, and let the stones be picked out, two penyworth of Mayden-heare, a gallon of face running Water, a pound of Figges, Boyle all these together, untill it be halfe consumed, then take it, and put it into a cleancearthen pot, and as you use it, take a little at a time, and put it into a Maudlin Cup, or Cruce, and warme it, drinke this as often as you hall thinke good, but especially Morning and Euening.

Cap. 230.

A Medicine for the cough of the Lungs, and for the Rewine.

A R E alt. of Elicompana rootes y are youg, of Setrach, Mayden-haire, Ana, 1. 3, all being new gathe= red, scrape the Elicompanæ rootes, & cut it into small flices, feeth them in fine pinces of faire running Water, and let it boyle untill it come to a pinte and an halfe, then Araine them, and put to it the quantity of three quarters of a pound of fine Suger, then boyle it againe, untill it come to the quantity of three quarters of a pince, then take two or three yolkes of new layo Egges, and beate them very well, and put them therein, and let them boyle together for the space of halfe a quarter of an houre, then take it off the fire, and when the Patient will vse it, lethim take a spoonefull at a time, one in the morning, and another in the evening, and let the Patient lye upon his backe for the space of an houre after he hath received it, and let him we this for the space of fine or fire dayes, keeping himselfe very warme, and it will rio the greatest cough that is from him, for it hash been well prooued.

Cap.

Cap. 231.

A very good Medicine for the Colde, very cleane, then take Hisop and Peniroyall, of each of them halfe a handfull, Annise seed and Licquorice, of each of them an ounce, and three penyworth of case Ginger, and fine or sire Figges sliced: If your Figges do not make it sweete inough, then put into it a quantity of sine Suger, (you must slice your Licquorice and Ginger, and bruse your Annise seeds) and then books it curr the sire, until the one halfe be consumed, and then straine it through a sine sinnen cloth into some Glasse, or else some Pot, where it may be kept close, then let the Patient drinke thereof morning and cuenting for the space of sine or sire dayes together, and he shall sinde great ease thereby. Probatum est,

Cap. 232.

Another for the same.

Raddish, of each of them a like quantity, and seeth them in a potite of white Inine, untill the one halfe be consumed, then take it from the stre, and seperate the hearbs from the sicquoz, then take the hearbs, and put them into a Pozter, and stampe them very well, and straine them, and put it into the Pot againe, then take a pinte of english Honay, and voyle it, and skome it, then take the quantity of a small Rutte of Pay Butter (if it may be gotten) and let it be clari-clarified, and put into the other Licquoz, and let it feeth a little space after, then Araine it agains through a fine linnen cloth, and put the Licquoz into a Glasse, or some of ther cleane Aessell, and let the Patient vinke thereof mozining and evening, to the quantity of seven or eight spoonesfulls at a time, with stale Ale, untill he be whose. This hath been often proved.

Cap. 233.

A Medicine for the stopping of the nose and head, which commeth by reason of colde,

I die a good quantity of the inice of Primrose, and blow it with a quill into the Patients nose, and let him keepe himselfe warme after it, and it will clears both his head and nose.

Cap. 234.

A very good Drinke for a Cold or Cough.

of each of them a like quantity, and feeth them in a pottle of pure Muskadine, and so let it feeth untill such time as the one halfe thereof be consumed away, then take footh the hearbs, and put them into a wooden dish, of else into a moster, and stampe them, and straine the inice into the licquoz, and then put in the hearbs againe, then take a pinte of clarified Honny, and the quantity of a quarte of May-Butter, being likewise clarified, and so boyle all these againe for the space of a quarter of an houre, or somewhat more, then take it and straine it through a sine sinnen cloth, into some glasse, or else into some cleane earthen bestell, and stop it close, and set the Patient vse to drinke this both morning and evening sor the space of 3.02 4. vapes together, but he must take the quantity of vii, spoonesuls at a time, mingled with Cold. Cornes.

with stale Alewarme, and this will helpehim, although his Cold or Cough be never so great, for it hath been well prooned. C. D.

Cap. 235.

Another very good Drinke for the colde, and to open the Pipes.

Time, Hisop, Germaunder, Neepe, and Penyroyall, of each of them a good quantity, and seeth all these together in a pottle of faire running Water, and let them boyle butill the one halfe thereof be consumed, and then straine it, and put to it the quantity of two spaonefulls of good wine Vineger; and three or foure ounces of sine Suger, to make it sweete, and so let the Patient drinke a good draught thereof morning and evening, for the space of three dayes together, and this will helpe him. Probatum est.

Gap. 235.

A good Medicine to take away any Corne in your Toe, or else-where.

Ak E aknife, and pare the Corne as neere the quick as it may be suffered, and then take the inner part of a Figge, and a quantity of Verdy-greace, and mire them both together, and lap it to the Corne, and let it be bound very fast with a linnen cloth, and this will eate out the roote of the Corne, for this hath been produed. Per I.Bell, Cap.

Cap. 237.

Another Medicine for the fame.

I ak E Marygoldes Kamped, and lay them byon the icze both Pozning and Euening, and if the Cozne be not very deepely rooted, it will helpe. Dr else pare your Cozne, and lay thereto the quantity of halfe a pease or lomewhat more of Turpentine and red Waxe boyled together, and this will take away the Cozne.

Cap. 238.

Another Medicine for the same.

blacke Snaile and by the Corne, and then take a blacke Snaile and by the it, and put a drop or two of the inice thereof into the place greened, and put there-to a little powder of Sandefere, and it will helpe you.

Cap. 239.

Another Medicine for the same,

Ith, pare away the Come as neere as it may be luffer red, then take Vollekt Lime, and put it into the hole, to the quantity of a Fatch, and cover it with a plaisfer imade of Waxe and Rosen mired together, and let it continue on the place sor the space of source and twenty houres, and this will presently helps you.

Cap. 240.

Cornes. Collick.

A Medicine to heale any Cornes in ones fecte or toes.

A K E red Waxe, Vineger, and a little quantity of Aquavicæ, and boyle them all together, with two of three cloues of Garlicke, then take a knife that is marpe, and when you goe to bed, cut your Coine as necre as you can suffer to cut it, then take one of the cloues of Garlicke, a some of the Waxe, and binde it to your toe, vie this three or foure times, and this will take away the Coine that you that you that never be troubled therewith agains.

Cap. 241. Another Medicine for the same.

pith that groweth unto the Mells, and dry it, and make thereof a powder, and when you goe to bed cut your Torne with a Marpe knife, and picke out as much of the roote as you can, then put into the hole some of this powder, and if you will, you may be a very little of sublimed Mercury, the which is to be had at the Apothecaries, and then wrap a linnen cloth about your toe, and it will ease away the Corne cleane. This hath been proposed.

Cap. 242.

A soueraigne Medicine sorthe Collick.

and make a tolke thereof, and tolke it at the fire, and ever as you tolke it, cast Palmespe on it, then take Lauender Collick. Collick and Stone. Fol. 50.

Lauender flowers, and cast it on the toste, then lay it bypon a thinne cloth, and as hote as the Patient can suffer it. let him lay it to his Mauell, as close as he can. This hath holpen many.

Cap. 243.

Another Medicine for the same,

The Dates and been them in a pan as pe do particle Patient put them in a linnent cloth, and fet them to his Pauell as hote as he may possibly about it, and by vising this often, he shall since great ease.

Cap. 244.

Another Medicine for the same, then take it footh againe, and let it coole untill the rednes begone, and then take a penyworth of Saffron and lay it upon the Kone, and turne it too and fro, untill it be turned almost to powder: then take it and temper it well with the quantity of two spoonefulls of pure Palmesey, and so let the Patient drinks it first and last, and by Gods grace this will helpe him.

Cap. 245.

An approued Medicine for the Collick and Stone of that the Annual Control of the Collick

Ak E the cuttings of a Uine and by them throughly, twhen you are disposed to vie them, burne them vpo a Tilestone, or else vpon some cleane harth, then take the asses y cometh of hine, a mingle it with a pint of Rennish O 2

Collick. Collick and Stone.

Mine, or white wine, & so let it stand for y space of a night, and the next morning you must drinke a good draught there of fasting, (you must have a great regard in the putting of the ashes and the wine together, because they ought to be of equall quantities.) This hath been proved.

Cap. 246.

A Medicine to be vsed for the Collicke and Stone and two spoonefulls of Capons-grease, put these into an earthen bessell, and let one spoonefull of the greace be put on the top, and the other in the bottome of the hearbs, then set these to boyle on the embers from morning to night, and then stamp them and straine them: then take the opniment and spread it upon a sinnen cloth, and lay it as hot as it may be suffered to the Mauell, and bottome of your belly. Probatum est.

Cap. 247.

A good Medicine for the Collicke,

Tak E a quarte of white Usine, and Wilke that is new from the Lowe, or Goates milke if it may be gotten, and make a posset thereof, then skome the curd away cleane, and take the posset drinke, and put therein a handfull of Mother of Time, and a handfull of youg Parsly, and seeth them in the posset drinke, then take a penymorth of iong Pepper & bruise it, and put it into the posset drinke, and let the Patient drinke a good draught thereof first and last, and he shall since great ease thereby. Probatum est.

THE LOW

Cap. 248.

A good Medicine for a woman that is troubled with the Collicke.

Darch, and distill them, and give a good draught of the said water to the Patient to drinke fasting for the space of three or source dayes together, and the party greeved shall quickly be whole. Also Litarge drawne into water, is good for the same disease.

Cap. 249.

A good Medicine for the Stone,

TAKE a good handfull of Time, and almuch Parlly, and seeth them in white Wine a good while, then straine it, and share a good spoonefull of white Sope, into a good draught of the same Wine, and give it to the Patient to drinke, and this will helpe him presently.

Cap. 250.

An excellent good Medicine for the Collick.

ARE a good quantity of the leaves of a Lorell tree, and dry them and beate them to powder, and put thereto a quantity of the powder of Nurmegs, and mingle them with fresh Butter, and with a linnen cloth bind it to the Mauell of the party greeved, and it will helpe him speedily.

Cap. 251.

Collick. Collick and Stone.

Another Medicine for the same, well in a Poster, & put thereto an ounce of Cummin, and fry them with sheepes suet, and stale Ale, and make a Plaister thereof and lay it to the Pauell of the party greeued, as hote as it may be suffered. This hath beene produed.

Cap. 252.

An approued Medicine for the Collick and Stone.

Ak E Philupendula, Scabions, Mouse-eare, water Cressers, of each of them a like quantity, then take the middle rinde of barke of an Elder tree, and then put all these into an Duen that is hote, and dry them, and make thereof a Powder, and give the Patient to drinke the quantity of a spoonefull at a time, either in posset ale, or Ale it selse alone warme. Probatum cst.

Cap. 253.

Another Medicine for the same, maight of leaven groates of Gallingall, the waight of five groates of Bayes, sine groates waight of long Pepper, the waight of foure groates of Fennell seede, the waight of three groates of Alisander-seede, two groates waight of Parsly seede, and the waight of one groate of english Saffron: Beate all these to powder in a Brasen Porter, and let it be very well searled: then put thereto a good quantity of sine Suger, and mingle them well together, and let the party greeved vie of the same powder in his Pottage, (the quantity of halfe a spoenefull at a time) And let him vie of this nowder powser in his dzinke, (as in Ale that is olde, oz else in white Wine, but it is best in Pottage. Probatum est.

Cap. 254.

An appropued Medicine for the Collick and Stone.

Ak Capottle of white Wine that is pure and good, and put it into a pot, and take also two great blew Flint Cones, and let them be as bigge as they will ealily goe into the pot whereas the Wine is, then call the Cones into the fire, where as they may be red hote, then take them footh and quench them in the pot whereas the Mine is, then take them footh agains out of the pot, and put them in the fire againe, as is afozefaid, and so in like manner the third time, and so from time to time, untill the one halfe be consumed away: and when you see that the Wine is halfe consumed, then set it to stand untill it be well settled, and then let the party greeued dinke thereof, and let him vse it as often as he shall thinke good, or that he shall feels any paine, and this will helpe him of the Collick and Stone. For by experience I am able to report, that it did helpe one Payster Taylor of Bristow, that was prisoner in the Kings Bench, with divers others.

Cap. 255.

An excellent good and perfect Medicine to cure the Collick, Stone, and Stranguary.

TARE b. or vi. leaves of the hearbe called Lawrell, tampe them and Araine them in Alc. or if they be vry, beate them to powder Aput it in Ale, & let the Patient orinke Collick. Stranguary and Stone.

drinke thereof falling, and let him be kept warme all the fame vap after in his Chamber: for after the receipt there of, he chall be troubled with fine or like choses, or more. This hear be groweth in Gardens, and is like to History, otherwise Pitsletoe, and it hath leaves like unto the hear be which is called Pissell, which groweth in old Apple trees, and beareth a berry of the bignes of a warte, and it is commonly given to Cattell for medicines.

The next day after that you have taken this Medicine as afozesaid, make a Powder of these things following; Filipendula, and Saxifrage, of each of them one ounce, Coriander seede, Gromell seede, and Alexander seede, of each of them halfe an ounce, Jup berries, Bzoome-sceve, the blos= some of the Elder flowers, and the berries of Holme, of each of these one ounce, and the like quantity of Annise seede and Fenell scede, an Dregall, and halfe an ounce of the Rowe of a red Pearing, the Roundes of a Thomeback-fifth, which is a round nut, which you thall finde within the prickes which stand upon the fishes backe, and Pollipodium, which is a fearne growing out of an Oke, dried into powder : of each of these halfe an ounce, beate all these in powder, and mire them together, and for the space of fire or fenen vapes following, take every day fasting to the quantity of one spoonefull of the same Powder, and mire it with Ale, and dinke thereof: but you must abstaine from meate & dinke for the space of foure or fine houres after the receipt hereof. This hath cured many.

Cap. 25%.

A Medicine to cure the Collick and Stone.

them by on Tiles, then take the powder of them sene rally, of each a spoonefull, and searle it fine, and give it to the Patient in Palmeley to drinke every morning offing, for the space of five or live dayes. This hath been product.

Cap. 257.

Another Medicine for the same.

Take unset keekes, Pallowes, Pellitozy, of each of them a like quantity, stampe them very well, and put thereto a penyworth or two of Reates ople, fry them well together in maner of a plaister, put them into a bagge made of linnen cloth, and being very hote, lay it to the belly of the Patient, and it will helpe within one houre.

And for the Stone, lay the same to the Reines of the backe behinde, and it will help with speede.

Cap. 258.

A very good Medicine for the Collicke.

Take Gromell seede, Parlly seedes, and Annise seedes, of each of them two spoonesuls, greene Fenell one handfull, one Parsly roote, one Raddish roote, set eyether of them be as long as a singer, unset Time, Therystones, Philopendula, of each of them one handfull, Mash all these, and bruse and stamp them very small. Then take them and boile them in a pottle of white Usine, in an earthen pot close, till a pint thereof be consumed, and then let it runne through a sinnen clothwithout strayning, and drinke this both morning and evening. Probatum est,

Cap. 259.

A Medicine for the Collicke and Stone,

Take Camamile, as much as will lie in the palme of your hand, Pellitory of the wall, and Auens, of each of them a handfull, and a spoonefull of Partly seede a little R brused, Collick. Collick and Stone.

brused, then make a Posset of Rennish Wine, and let the curd be cleane taken off, and then boile all these together in the same posset drinke, till all the substance be boyled out, then vie to drinke this both morning and evening, and this will helpe you.

Cap. 260.

An aproued Medicine for the Collicke.

Ake an ounce of Cloues & Pace, a handfull of Time, a handfull of Rosemary, and as much Isope, and secth all these in a pattle of white Thine, and let it seeth on till it be consumed from a pottle to a quarte, then put thereto a little Suger, & then drinke the same luke-warme at such time as you feele your selfe to be in paine, and when it is very well sodden as aforesaid, you must burne it as you do commonly vie to burne other Mines.

Cap. 261.

An aproued Medicine for the Stone.

Take a Carret roote, and slice it very thinne, and say it in white Wine, and so let it remaine so, the space of two dayes and two nights, and then straine it, and let the Patient vinke thereof maining and evening faking, and this will helpe him. Probatum est.

Winde Collicke.

Cap. 262.

An aproued Medicine for the winde Collicke and for a stitch.

TAke Capillus Veneris, Partly rootes, & Fencil rootes, of each of them a quarter of an ounce, by use all these heards together, and let the party grieved drinke the inice thereof with white thine morning and evening so, the space of 3 of 4 dayes, and it will helpe him. Probatum est,

Cap.

Winde Collick. Consumption. Fol. 54

Cap. 263.

An excellent Medicine for the Windy Collicke,

Take a pottle of pure Palmeley that is not mirt with any other Ulines, and 4 or 5 spoonefuls of the pith of Parsty rootes, and two handfuls of Uiolet leaves, and a vosen of Bay leaves, weeth all these together untill the one halfe he boyled away: then take it, and Craine it well through a very fine linnen cloth, and let the Patient drinke a good draught thereof morning and evening warme.

Cap. 264.

Another Medicine for the same.

Take a quart of Ale clarified, and two spoonefulls of the flower of Licquotice, and a spoonefull of the flower of Annualeedes, and halte a spoonefull of Fennell seedes by seed, a little-Time, and seeth them all together untill it be consumed from a quart to a pint, and then straine is through a linuan cloth, and ble this morning and enening for the space of 4 or 5 dayes warme, and this will helpe you.

Consumption.

Cap. 265.

A remedy for a Consumption,

Doates, of Pares, or of the Wilke of a Cow that is all of one colour, and put thereto to the number of 50 or threelcore Egges, mingle the polks of the Egges very well with the Pilke and Rosewater, but let not any of the white remaine amongst them, and divid a water thereof, and give it to the Patient to winke warme first Flast, with a Cake or two of Manus Christi, which is made with Golde and Pearles: Use this, and you that since much ease thereby, for it hath holpen many.

R 2

I A

Consumption. Deafenesse.

Cap. 266.

A remedy for a Consumption in the Reines.

Take a handfull of two of Clary leaves, and picke them, and 4 of 5 yolks of Penneegges newly layde, then take Saffron and dry it upon a Tilestone of some such thing, and grinde it very small, and put all these together, and fry them in fresh butter, and eate it first in the morning, and this will helpe you.

Deafenesse.

Cap. 267.

A soueraigne Medicine for the paine and buzzing in the head, which hindreth the hearing very much.

Ake a Clone of Garlicke, pill it, and picke three or foure holes in the middelt of it, and then viv it in fine english Honny, and put it into your eare, and put alittle blacke wooll after, and for that night lie voon the other side, and les pour eare that is stopped be veright, and the next night following vie the other eare in the same sort, and sye then on the contrary side againe, and so every other night alter as aforesaid, and so centime it for the space of eight or nine dayes together, and this will expulse all the sill humors foorth at your nose, it will also expell the paine, and restore the hearing. This hath beene produed.

Cap. 268.

An approued Medicine for deafenesse,

The Bayleanes, Bayberries, Betony, and Scicards, of each of them one handfull, seeth them in white wine, untill the one halfe be consumed, (and for an old man ble Palmeley in Gead of white wine) then take it, and put it into a bestell that hath a narrow mouth, and let the Patient hold his earequerit (being unstopped) so that he may suffer it (the same not being too hote nor too colve) then take oyle of bitter Almonos, and let three or source drops thereof sali into his eare. Let the Patient have alwayes a locke of sine blacke wooll that groweth betweene the Sheepes legges, to stop his eare close withall, wherein, if he put a little Pushe, it will be the better. This hath beene produced by Tho. Stevens of Bushton.

Cap. 269.

An excellent Medicine for one that is deafe, and that his hearing is almost cleane gone.

Ake a red Dayon, and take out the coze that is in the middest thereof, and put thereto the oyle of rosted Almonds, but let the Dayon be somewhat warme when you put the oyle into it, and let it stand so for the space of one night, then let it be bruised, and straymed into a poringer, and let the party grieved cause one to drop three drops at a time both morning and evening, and let him stop his eare with a little blacke wooll that groweth under the eare of a blacke Sheepe, and let him when he is in his bed lye on the same side: thus using sixts the one eare, and after wards the other in this manner, it will by Gods helpe cure him. This hath cured many.

Time

Liber 2.

Liber. 2.

Eyes and Eyesight.

First, it is to be considered what things are good for the eyes, and what are not, for the eye is the most necessary member of all other pertaining to mans body, for without the sight thereof, we can of our selues do nothing: therefore this small member is chiefely to be regarded, and according to my simple skill, I have gathered a fewe flowers (as I may tearme them) to preserue, and keepe the same, and in so doing, if I offend, I shall be hartely sory, but if they please, then shall I thinke my labours happely spent.

Goodforthe fight.

Mealutable fleepe. Rev Roles. Usrnaine Rootes. Fennell. Selandinc. Pimperuelt.

Oculus Christic

To walh your eyes with cleare water.

To looke mon any

To looke vpon any manner of greene colours.

To looke in a faire

Land feete often.

Ill for the fight,

To eate Garlicke, Onjous and Leekes.

Toeate Lettice.

To travell or go too kud: Daine after meate. Pote Wines. Cold arie.

Drunkennes. Gluttony. Wilke. Checfe.

Duermuch beholving of bright and repthings, and also white.

Buch steeps after meate. Too much lest, of bloud. Cold worts. Dutt. Fire.

t Buch weeping, and Louermuch watching.

Waters for the Eyes.

A speciall good water for to preserve the cyclight.

Take a new layo Egge, and rolle it hard, cut the thell in the middelt, then take foozeh the polke, and put a piece of Coperas into the place where the polke lay, and binoc the Egge together againe, and let it lye in the fire, bu-till

till you thinke that the Coperas be resolved to water, then take the white out of the Well, and cut it into small pieces, and put it into a glasse of cleere running water, and let it stand a little while, then straine it through a very fine cloth, and keepe it in a close glasse, and cuery morning and eucing wall the Patients eyes therewith.

A Medicine for fore eyes.

Take Coposas, and lay it to steepe in faire running water for the space of 5 or 6 hours, then take it, and straine it chrough a linnen cloth into a little glasse of Cliall, and when you goe to bed strike the brees of your tyes therewith, and let it drop into them, and this will helpe your eyesight very much.

A very good Medicine to kill the pinne and the webbelin the eye.

Dayles, of each of them a like quantity, then take the white of a new laid egge, and beate it till all the froth may be eally taken off, and put thereto halfe a spoonefull of Yonney, then stampe all the hearby together, and when you have stamped them very small, then straine them, and put to the inice thereof the white of the egge and the Honny all together, and let them be very writ tempered, then take a feather, and do a little of this into the eye of the Patient: then take a plansfer of Flaren tow, and dip it in the said Hedicine, and lap it upon the Patients eye, and hinde it sast, and let it continue an houre of somewhat more at every time that it is dressed. This hath been many times proved.

Another soueraigne Medicine for the webbe in the eye, if it be olde.

TAke red Pimpernell, Euphralia, e stamp them very wel in a Horter, and then fry them with Capons greace in a cleane panne, and when it is fryed, wring it through alimen a linnen cloth into some brade vedell, and let it stand therein three dayes after, then take it footh, and put it into a bope of Porne or Tinne, and a little thereof at a time, and put it into the webbe of the eye, and this Pedicine will help it.

A very good Medicine to cleare the eyelight.

Aske a Powder of Fennell, Annile, and Elicompane, and temper them with Aquavica, and then days them agains, and eate a quantity thereof enery morning and eneming, and this will both clears the light, purge the winds, and inake one seems your long. This hath beens producd.

A Medicine for bleared eyes.

Ake the stone that is called Salumnaris, which is to be had at the Apothecaries, and beate it to fine powder, and put it into a spoonefull of two of Rosewater, and one spoonefull of running water mingled together, then take a feather, and enery maining and enening let a drop of two fall into your eye. Use this often, and it will helpe you.

A Medicine for eyes that are bloudshot and red.

Take Houseeke, and stampe it very finall, then take a new laid egge, and make a hole in the end, and draw out all the meate, and put into it the inice of Houseeke, and set it in the embers, and so distill it, and with a feather scumme it cleane, and at night when you go to bed take a feather, and drop a drop thereof into your eye, lying by on your backe, and it will presently helpe you. This hath been produed.

A Medicine for to kill a pearle or web-

Take three leaved graffe that beareth the Honpsuckler and take the inverthereof, and put it into the eye of the partie grieved, and it will by bling it twice a day, help it in Ar dayes space.

An experienced water for the eyes.

And Rue, of each of them a good handfull, take all these and wash them very cleane, and dry the water soorth of them agains with a fine cloth: then put them into a Limbecke, and dividl them, and let the Patient drop of this water often into his cies, and this will recover his sight againe although it be supposed to be past all hope of recovery.

Face.

A very good Medicine to destroy any heate in the face, or in any other place, although it be S. Anthonies fire.

The a pottle of Smithes water, a handfull of Sage two handfuls of Elder leaues, or of the greene barke of an Elder tree, and two penyworth of Alum, take these, and seeth them altogether, from a pottle to a pint then take it, and put it into an earthen pot, or some gally pot and let the Patient anoint his face therewith when he goeth to bed, and by the next morning he shall since great ease thereby: but let him vie it for the space of sue or size dayes, and this will helpe him by Gods grace.

Another very good Medicine for a red or high coloured face.

TAke Aine-leanes and Strawberies, of each of them a like quantity, then take as much sweete Creame, as you shall thinke good toz the quantity of the things alogosato, then put unto it two penyworth of Camphire, and put it into a Stulatory all together, and distill it, and then take the water thereof and wash your face therewith every morning and evening for the space of nine or tenas vapes, and this will take away the high colour. This was much view by Maiser Cox, who div help many with it.

Another Medicine to take away the pimples and high colour out of ones face, be it neuer so farre gone.

Ake greene and white Copozelle, of each of them a like quantity, and put them into a lawcer of faire running water, and warme it on the coales, and as hote as ever you can suffer it, anome the pimples of your face therewith, or any other place of your face which is high coloured, or red, and in bling this often, it will helpe you.

A Medicine for to make ones face cleare, and to shine,

Take a good quantity of the Parrow of Swines feete, Cow-milke, and Rolewater, and mingle them well together, and anoint your face therewith lukewarme, and it will make it very faire.

Falling Euill.

An excellent good remedy for the Falling Euill.

The Piony-rootes one handfull, and a handfull of Missleto that groweth in a Blackthome Tree, and an handfull of Pollipodium, otherwise called Dke fearne, and a handfull of two of Sclandine, if it be to be had, had, stampe them very well, and soke them in Ale for the space of 24 hours, then take it, and strayne it through a fine linnen cloth, and put it into some earthen pot to be kept close fro the aire, and let the Patient vrinke a good draught thereof every morning fasting, and last in the evening for the space of nine or tenne dayes, and by Gods help he shall be eured. This hath been product.

Another very good Medicine for the same,

Take Germander that is gathered in Pay, when it hath the blossome on it, and day it in the Gadow where no Sunne commeth, and make thereof a powder, and when you will, vse it: then take the yolke of an Egge, of two, and beate the powder and the yolks all together in some woodden dish of posenger, then secth it, and when it is sodden, gue it to the Patient to eate both morning and evening for the space of nine dayes: But during this time, he must abstaine from all kinde of Mines, and carnall company of women, and also from all manner of Pulse, as Beanes, Pease, Firthes, and Tares, and from all other things that are of a hard concochcion of digestion, Probatum est,

Another Medicine for the same,

Ake the Hatrice of a Sow that hath your Pigges, and dry it upper a Tileurne or fireshouess, and make a Powder thereof, and give it to the Patient to eate, or else put it in his drinke, and as soone as he hath received the same, you shall perceive the sicknes to remove into his singers ends, grieving him very sore for a space, Then make some kinde of rupture to set to his singers ends, and you shall in a short space see the pellow matter or corruption proceede soorth of them.

TA

A very good Medicine for the bloudie Flux.

Ale Plantine, Knotty-grasse, & Shepparos purse, of each of them a good quantity, and boyle them all together in new Milke, Broath, or red Wine, and when they are well sodden, then straine the hearbes and the Pilke, and let the Patient drinke this often, and it will helpe him. Probatum est.

Another excellent good Medicine to stop the bloudie Flix.

Them in a Morrer very small, then take the yolks of rii new layd Egges reare rosted, and mingle them with the said Almonds, then put to them a quart of good red winc-vineger, and mingle it with the aforesaid stuffe, and put them into an earthen pot, and stirre them well together, and so let the Patient drinke the quantity of b. or bi. spoones fuls thereof at a time warme, 3 or 4 times enery day, as long as neede shall require, and it will helpe him.

An experienced Medicine to stay the bloudie Flix.

Take a peece of Beefe which groweth about the Brisket of the Dre, and let the Patient eate a prece thereof rawe, and this will speedily help him.

Gowte.

An experienced Medicine for the Coute,

TAKE Kale Pille, and seeth it, and scome it, and put chereta a good quantity of the cuice of red Mertles, red Fenell, Pints, and Wozmewood, and let the fuice of them them be of as even pozcious as you can gelle them, Pustard and Cummin, of each of them a little, and the inice of hearbe Benet as much as of all the rest, Seeth all these together, and stake a Playster thereof, and so apply it often to the place grieved, and it will help. This hath been produed.

Another good Medicine for the Gowt, or any other ache.

Take Rosen and Pitch, of each of them a quarter of a pound, and a quantity of Frankensence, as much as a beane, and as much of Turpentine, then take a quantity of Deare-suet, vy Sheepestallow, and boyle them all together in a pot, and when it is well boyled, then take it footh, and wash it as you do Birdline in cleane water, and then take some of it, and spread it upon a peece of Leather, and lay it to the soze, and so let it remains there untill it fall off it selfe, Alse this two or three times, and you shall since greate ase thereby.

A Medicine for the Gowte.

Take Shomakers spects of pieces of leather, and fry out the grease, and say some of it upon a browne paper, and warme it a little at the sire, then apuly it to the place grieued, and it will take away the paine thereof in one night. Probatum est.

Greene Sicknes.

An approued Medicine for the Greene Sicknes.

TAKE a pottle of red Wine that is pure, (or for want thereof, take so much Pollocke) and two ounces of Fennell seedes, and three ounces of Annile seedes, and put them all together, and let them boyle over a soft sire, but Watient deinke thereof first and last, suke warme, and let the Patient deinke the quantity of halfe a pint thereof at a time, if it may be indured. This must be vsed for the space of eight dayes together, alwayes beginning two dayes after the changes of euery new Moone: and if it be farre gone, that the Patient cannot recour perfect health in that space, then let this Medicine be vsed eight dayes in a moneth for the space of three moneths together, in the beginning of euery moneth as aforesaid, and without all doubt it helpeth. This hath been often producd.

A Medicine for the Greene Sicknes.

I ake an hearbe that is called Rosus solus, it groweth lowe by the ground, and it hath somewhat a broade lease (some do call it the Sheepes rot) it beareth a pellow flower. Distill this hearbe, and give some of the water to the Patient, to drinke morning and evening, and let him whe some exercise of labour, and by this drinke he shall be holpen without all doubt. The Patient must vse this drinke for the space of sixe or seaven dayes together, for it is also restorative, and much vertue hath been sound heerein.

A Medicine for to take away any extreame ache, or swimming in the head.

Camamile, Bayes, and Lauender it selfe, both new and old, Pints, and Fencil, seeth these all together in water, and put thereto a handfull of Bay salt, then take the same licour the hearbs and all, and walk your seete there with twise every morning and evening sor the space of three dayes, and in doing thus, it will take away any paine in the head if it be never so extreame or grievous, sor it hath been produed.

An excellent good Medicine for the Head-ach or Megrime.

Ake fine or fire Rutmegs, and pare and flice them very thinne, then make two little linnen baggs of the length and breadth of your finger, and put in the Mutmegs, then take a quantity of pure red Rolewater, and lay your baggs in the same water, in a dish, vpon a chasing dish of coales, and make them hote, and lay them to the temples of your head, and this will help.

Another Medicine for a continuall head-ach.

Ake Betony-water, and then take a cloth and deuble it three or foure times double, and let it be some thre fingers broare, wet it very well in the Betony-water, and lay it to your forhead cold. Let the cloth be= ing wet, come round about your head, and the it very fast, and when the cloth is diped, wet it againe, and in doing thus three or foure times, it will by Gods grace help thee.

A very good Medicine to clense or purge the Head.

TAke Pellitory of Spaine, and thew the roote thereof in your mouth, three or fouredayes at severall cimes, and this will take away the paine of the head, and also sasten the reeth in the gummes. Probatum est.

A very good Medicine for the head-ach,

Ake water of Wargerum, and holo your note over it, and draw your winds hard unto you, untill fuch time as the water hath entred into your nose diverstimes, and then suodainely your head-ach shall be taken away. TA

Lib. 2. Head-ach or Megrime. laundise.

A very good Medicine for the Megrime truly proued.

Ake an ounce of Pepper, and 4025 Putmegs, a quarter of an ounce of Graines, and a quart of Uinegar, and two handfuls of Rolemary, boyle all these together betweene two platters upon a chasing oith of coles, and then take a cloth and put it over your head, and hold your head close over it, butill it be very well boyled: It is the better if you let it boyle almost all away, by Gods grace this will help you.

Iaundise.

A Medicine for the black I aundise,

ARE shell-snailes and rost them, or esse dry them at the sire, or in an oven, and when they are dry, beate them to powder, then take a spoonefull thereof at one time, and drinks it in Ale, and this being taken for the space of nine or tenne papes together both morning and evening, it doth perfectly cure this disease.

A very good Medicine for the yelow laundise.

Take earth-wormes, and wall them and slit them, then take a little scraped Juozy and english Saffron bearen to powder, mire these with white Ultine, and let the Patient drinke a good draught thereof luke-warme, both mozening and evening.

A Medicine for the yellow.

T The Baylalt. Otes, and Commin, and dry all thele, and make two bags thereof, and as hore as the Patient may luffer it lay the one after the other to the plow, or crowns of the head, and so let him ble it a good while.

A present remedy for an Inch.

The Dock-rooses and beate them, and bruile them with fresh Butter, and anoint the Bacient with the Salue, and in fine of fire cimes dreffing, it will helpe him.

Liner.

A Medicine for the Ropping in the Liuer.

ARE Broth made of a Chicken, with thefe things in it, that is to sap, Mercury and Succosy, of each of them halfe a handfull, and a few great Reisons, the Cones picked out, and let all these be bopled together, then take a few bitter Almonds, and blaunch them and beate them, and with the same Licquoz, make Almond Milke, and so vse to drinke it every morning first.

Another Medicine for the heate of the Liuer, or drinesse in the hands.

ARC a good quantity of Strawbery-water distilled, and seeth therein a good quantity of Liverwort, and deinke it with a good quantity of Sirop of Mines, and this will coole the heate of the Liver.

. A very good drinke made of Whey, for to coole the extreame heate of the Liver and Stomacke.

T Ske Violet-leaues, Sinckfoile leaues, Succory, Endiue, Scabions, and Fumitory, of each of them a good handfull, feeth all these in a pottle of Whey which bath been bayled, and so let it continue Will seething, butill a third part thereof be consumed, then Araine it through a fine linnen chord, and let the Patienc drinke a good draught thereof both morning and curning, and it will helps him. Probacum ett, Lib. 2. Mother. Morphew. Files, &c.

An approued Medicine for the Mother.

Take a quantity of Nepe-royall, and Eamp it, then take two spoonefuls of the said inice, and a spoonefull of Sallet oyle, and let two parts thereof seeth away, then but o that which remayneth, but onely the quantity of the oyle, and let the Patient anoint the place very often where the Pother both arise.

Morphew.

& A very speedy remedy for the Morphew.

Take three spoonefulls of Elder-water, and let the Patient drinke enery day so much, for the space of nine dayes, and looke that the Patient do sweate enery day, then take three or foure Oke-apples, and lay them to steepe in white wine Vinegar for the space of 24 hours, and then let him wash his body with the Vinegar, and this will help him.

Piles or Emerodes.

An excellent remedy for the Piles.

Them cleane, then take a quantity of faire running Water, and boyle them therein, till they be somewhat tender, then day the well in a linnen cloth, then stamp them as small as you can, and when you have so vone, take a good piece of fresh Butter, and boyle them therein upon a Chasingdish of coles, then put into it a good quantity of english Saffron, and boyle them together, and when it is well boyled, straine it through a faire lunen cloth into a Glasse and keepe it, and when you will vie it, make a Plais ser thereof upon a linnen cloth, or else a piece of leather, and lay it cold to the place which is grieved, and this will speed will bely him.

A Medicine to staunch the bleeding of the Piles.

Take the inice of Milisoile, and put thereunto the powver of burnt Garlicke, and let the partie grieved drinke thereof, and in short space the Piles will dre. This hath been produed.

French Poxe.

An excellent good water for the French Poxe,

Honny, of each of them a penymorth, or somewhat more, of Sage, Rosemary, and Woodbinde, of each of them a like quantity, and boyle them all together in faire running Water, and let the Patient vse this often, and it will help him.

A manuellous good oyntment for the French Poxes

Take Hoggs-greace that is untried to the quantity of a quarter of a pound, of Quicksilver. Z. 1, and qualifie your Quicksilver with fasting Spettle, then put to the Hoggs-greace and the Quicksilver 3 of 4 spoonefulls of knong and sharp Vineger, then beate all these very well for the space of two of three houres together, and then put it into an earthen pot, of Gally pot, and let the Patient vse to amoint the place grieved often therewith, and doubtiess this will helphim. Probatum est.

A good Medicine to kill the great Pocke,

Take a good quantity of Camphire, and lay it to the place where the Pocke is, and it will presently eate it cleane away. Probatum est,

Another for the same.

Take a good quantity of Hemlocks, and a good quantity of the dregs of Arong Ale, and a good quantity of Hutton Suet, and boyle all these very well together, and make a Pultis of them, and lay it to the place where the griefe is, and this will help him. Probatum est.

An excellent good Medicine to heale the French Pox.

ounces, Barke of Goacum two ounces, Licquorice one ounce, Anniseseedes one ounce, Fennellseede one ounce, Seeny one ounce, and of Betany, Scabions, Smallege, Pellitory of the wall, Penyroyall, Harts-toong, Maydenhere, wild Mints, or red Mints, red Sage, Oculus Christi, Liuerwort, and of the hearhe Mercury, of every one of them a good handfull, eleane picked and mashed, and then put all these gallons of faire running Water, or else in two gallons of pure white Wine, and one gallon of strong Ale, then take them, and boyle them all together, untill it be consumed to three quarts, then straine it through a sine linnen cloth, and put it into a close vessell.

Note this, that if you boyle it in water, it will continue but fixe or feuen dayes, but being boyled in Wine, and Ale, twenty dayes, which is too short a space for the parry which is sicke and diseased, to vse it.

This must be drunken by the sicke person both morning and evening, and at meate, and you must put into every three quartes of the water, one quarter of an ounce of Colequintida, and let the party which is sicke vse it, vntill such time as it hath scowred the body very well, and if it do not purge well, then take this Medicine following.

Another

Another for the fame.

Take halfe an ounce of Seny, a spoonefull of Annile-seedes, halfe an ounce of Licquorice, a spoonefull of Fenell seedes, twenty Reysons of the sunne, the stones picked footh, boyle these all together in a quart of Water, and let it boyle untill the one halfe be consumed, then straine it, and put thereto one ounce and anhalfe of Deaphenicon, and shake it together, and let the party grieved drinke there-of warme every morning fairing.

This Purgation neuer maketh the body sicke, neyther doth it hurt the Itomacke.

Note also, that this drinke aforesaid, will heale any old vicer if it be washed therewith, and especially of that which is made both of Wine and Ale, if the party be neuer so sore discassed, let him purge twice or thrice with Coloquintida, prepared, and it will help him for euer.

Small Poxe.

A Medicine to drive out the small Poxe,

Ake Milke, Sastron, and english Honny, and feeth them together, and give it to the Patient; and let him he kept warme after it.

Another for the same,

Take Dragon-water, white Wine, and Methridatum, oz Treacle of Ieane, and some Vnicornes horne, and seeth these together, and give them to the Patient as asozesaid.

Purgations.

Ake a pinte of white Wine, and an ounce of Serie, and a good handfull of Reisons of the sunne, the stones picked out, and halfe a spoonefull of Annisecdes, put all these into the said white Wine to steepe one whole night, and the next morning boyle it butill it be come to a draught, and so let the Patient drinke it luke-warme, and if you will you may put thereunto three or source rootes of Polipodic of the oke. This is very good. Probatum est.

T 3

Ente

Plague and pestilence.

Efferein are conteyned divers and fundry good rules and easie Medicines, which are made with little charge, for the poorer fort of people, as well for the preservation of all people from the Plague before infection, as for the curing and ordering of them after such time as they shall be infected.

A preservative by correcting the ayre in all houses.

Ake Rosemary dived, Iuniper, Bay-leaues, of Frankincense, and cast the same whom the coles in a chasing dish, and receive the sume of smoke thereof into your head. If you will, put a little Lauender of Sage that is dived, into the sire with the rest it will do much good.

Also to make your fires in earthen pannes (rather to remove about your Chambers, then in Chinneys) shall be better to correct the aires in your houses, then otherwise.

A preservative against the Plague.

Take a handfull of Hearbe-grace, otherwise called Rue, a handfull of Elder-leaves, a handfull of red Sage, and a handfull of red Bramble leaves, and stamp them well together, and straine them through a fine linnen cloth, with a quarte of white Wine, then take a quantity of Case Ginger, and mingle it with them, and drinke a good draught thereof both morning and evening for the space of new dayes together, and by Gods grace it will preserve you.

An excellent good drinke to be taken every morning for a preservative against the Plague, and for to avoide infection,

Take a handfull of Winter-Saucry, and boyle the same in a quart of good wine-Vinegar, with a spoonefull of Graines being very fine beaten, and put into the same, then put into it a quantity of fine Suger, and so drinke a good draught thereof enery morning fasting.

A When you must of necessitie come into any place where any infectious persons are, it is good for you to smell to the roote of Angellica, Gentian, or Valerian, and to thew any of these in your mouth.

A speciall preservative against the Plague.

Ake fine spoonefuls of wine-Vinegar, three spoonefuls of faire running-Water, halfe a spoonefull of Treacle of Iene, and of Bolearmoniake as much as a small nut, being beaten to powder, and drinke this enery morning and euery euening. Proued by M. Knight of Andouer.

Take vi. leanes of Sorell, and wall them with Water and Vinegar, and let them lie to freepe in the said Water and Vinegar a good while, then eate them fasting and keepe in your mouth and thew now of then either Stewall, of the roote of Angelica, of a little Cinamon, for any of these is marnel-lous good.

Medicines to be vsed after infection taken.

For asmuch as the greatest cause of the Plague doth stand rather in poyson, then in any putrisaction of humors, as other Agues do, the chiefest way is to move much sweating, and to desend the hart by some cordials thing.

Supposi-

Suppositarie.

I F the Patient be costine and bound in his body, let him take a Suppositarie made with a little boyled Honny, and a little sine Powder of Salt, and so take it in at the sundament, and so keepe it till it moue a stoole.

A very good Medicine to be drunke, suspecting any to haue the Plague.

The a great oryon and take foozth the coze, then fill it full with good Treacle oflene, and wrap the same in a paper, and roll it butill it be soft, then straine the same with a little white wine Vinegar, and temper it with a quantity of Suger, and give to the Patient two sponefulls thereof to drinke fasting, and if the Patient be infected with the Plague, you shall perceive it within sire hourses, after the receipt of the same vinke.

An excellent Medicine for the Plague.

Take three or foure Nips of hearbe grace, and bi. spoonefulls of Vineger, and beate them both together in a Morter, then traine the inice out thereof, a put thereto an ounce of fine Treacle, and an ounce of fine Suger, and set it over the fire, and stirre it together, and make thereof a sirap, and then put it into a close bare: then take a Sage-lease, and enery morning fasting spread as much as a beane thereof byon the same lease, and so case it morning and enening first and last.
And if he that eateth it be infected, it will drive it cleane from his hart, and if he be not infected, it will presente him within the space of exists houres after the receipt thereof.

A very good Medicine for the Plague.

TAke in the magning fasting, one day Fig, one Wallout, and 4025 leaves of hearbe-grace, thepped all together very small, and eate them, and danke afterwards a good daught of white of claret Wine: If it be a woman with child, leave out the hearbe-grace. This hath been often proued.

A very good Medicine against the F gue.

The a figge, and put therein a little Hearbe-grace, mingled with a little Baylalt kiuled, and the kernell of a Malinut cleane picked, these being put all together into the Fig, let the Patient eate three or source of these Figs so dressed, eutry morning next his hart, and drinke a very good draught of white Mine after it, and let him walke an houre after it, before he eate any more meate, and by bling of it thus every morning, by Gods help he shall be safe from any infection.

A Medicine to breake the Botch.

Bramble leaves, Elver leaves, and Huttard seede, and them take thereof, and make a Plaister and lay it to the soze, and it will draw foorthall the venome.

A maruellous good drinke for them that are infected with the Plague.

Take leafe-gold, and mingle it with the inice of Lemons, and a litle Suger-candie, Cloues, Pace, and a litle Tina-mon, and a like quantity of Licquoxice finely pared & fliced, and let this be freeped in white Mine, oxelle in good Claret Mine, and put therein a good quantity of the powder of Augellica, oxelle of the decoction of the same roote, the same oxinke will help the Patient being oxunke warme.

An excellent Medicine to ripen and to bring foorth the fore.

The a white onyon, and cut it in pieces, and three ounces of Butter that is cleane without falt, then take cloues of Garlicke cleane picked, the waight of Fr d. and the quantity of halfe an egge of leven, and a little otemsale small beaten, boyle all these together with a little new Pilke, or else faire water, a make a pulteste of it, a lay it very warme to the sore.

Ringwormes or Tetters. Salues. Lib.2.

I would wish that all such persons that have been infected with this disease, should willingly keepe their owne houses, or places of abode, without being conversant with those that are whole, vntill the fores have left running, and be perfectly whole and found, which in fanguine and cholericke persons will be healed sooner then in those which be of melancholike and flegmatike complexious. Such persons (1 assure you) may not very well be conuerfant with them that are not infected, for the space of one whole moneth at the least, Likewise the contagion suspected to remaine in any clothes, either wollen or linnen, cannot very well be auoided by better meanes then by fire and water, and by often washing of them in frolls and funneshine with good discretion, and burning the clothes that are of small value. Therefore I befeech God of his great mercy to keepe vs all in safety from it, Ringwormes or Tetters.

A Medicine to kill a Ringworme or Tetter, or any other maner of Itch,

The Sallet-oyle and falt, and temper them very well together, and warme them lake warms, and let the Patient anoint the places where the fores are, and in three or four etimes orealing, ic will help him.

Salues.

A very good Salue for a new cut or wound that will not cease bleeding.

The the blades of unset Leekes, and framp them very well, and put thereunto a quantity of wheate flower, and a quantity of Honny, and Airre them very well, but let it come neere no fire, but all cold lay to to the wound, and this will franch the bleeding, and braw our the brufed bloud, and make it cleane. This hath been often proued.

M An

An excellent Salue for a cut.

The two handfulls of Clalerian, and two handfulls of Bugie, that is most commonly growing in woods, and by we them very swall, then take a quantity of Deeres suet, and halfe as much bumpsught ware, Let there he of these two as much as the hearbes may boyle therein, then set it on the sire, and when it is halfe boyled, then put a quantity of the best Turpentine therein that may be gotten, then let it boile till it be inough (but all the while, see that you do not cease surring it) then straine it through a sine lunen cloth, and put it into some Gallypot, or earthen bestell, and so keepe it. This hath been many times and often proued.

A very good way to make the blacke Salue, that cureth all old fores and vicers, be they never forgreat, foule, and stinking.

Ake a gallon of Itale Ale, being very frong, two handfulls of Woodbinde leaves, halfe a handfull of feeded Mettles, and as much Coleworts which have the ragked leaves, halfe a pound of red Onyous, halfe a pound of darlicke pilled, a pound of unfet Leekes, a handfull of the powder of a rottem poll, which is Dke, for that is belf, then let all these be stamped all together very finall in a Morter, and then put them incothe Ale, with halfe a found of Roch Allum, then let them over a soft fire, and let them boyle, butill the one half or more be confirmed, then Traine them through a fine cloth, into some earthen or other vessell that is cleane, and then put to them halfe a pound of virgin ware, halfe a vound of Rolen, halfe a pound of Meruville that is greene, and a quantity of ffone Young, then let it stand for the space of foure or aue daves, then take it agains and boyle it till halfe be consumed amay, then put it into an earthen pot, and let it be Copped very close, and vie it as you shall have occasion.

An aproved Medicine to keepe teeth from stinking, and also to make them white, Ake a quantity of long Pepper, Pints, Putsane, Arifologia roturda, Salgem, & feeth them in pure white Thine, and fraine it into a Glasseo, Uiall, and when you shall thinke good, wash your teeth therewith, and this will keepe them both white and sweete. Per M. Cox.

A most excellent remedy to ease the raging paine.

of the teeth.

Ake a little Balme and Balill, and rub them both toigether in the palme of your hand, but ill fuch time as they come almost to a inice, and then put it into your eare on the same side that the paine is sn, and it will help you presently. This hath holpen many.

A very good Medicine for the tooth-ache.

Take a good quantity of the rootes of Henbane, and feeth it in white winc-vineger, or Rolewater, and put the vecoction thereof in your mouth, and it will helpe you.

Wormes.

A Medicine for Wormes in a Childes belly.

The Aquacomposita that is made of heards, and wash the vzealf of the child, then take powder of Mirrhe very fine beaten, and straw it likewise vyon the vzeast of the childe (after that it hath veen well washed) and lay a warme cloth to it, and so let it sye soz the space of priish houres to it.

FINIS.

